Disintegration Of Plane Makes Crash Probe Hard

MT. CARMEL, Pa. (AP)—Bits of wreckage of a United Airlines DC-6, strewn over an acre of woodland, today posed a difficult problem for investigators probing into the cause of the crash that took the lives of 43 persons, including theatrical producer Earl Carroll.

The big airliner, en route from San Diego, Calif., to New York, plowed into a 60,000-volt power line and exploded into flames Thursday afternoon.

The bodies—39 passengers, including two infants, and four crew members—were burned and torn, many beyond recognition.

The crash put power lines in the area out of commission and forced shutdown of several collieries.

Full electric service was restored shortly before midnight, but 1,200 miners were still idle today because during the power stoppage water had flowed into the mines.

"It is as bad a mess as I have ever seen," said Joseph Fluett, regional chief of the Civil Aeronautics Board.

"We expect to conduct a thorough and complete investigation, but I can see we're going to run into difficulties because the disintegration is so complete," he said.

Fluett said it probably would take at least two weeks before it could be decided if a hearing would be necessary.

Representatives of the airlines and police spent most of Thursday night going through the belongings of the passengers and crew. They found, among other things, a wallet containing Carroll's name and $1,024 in cash. And they also found a new baby's purse with a penny inside.

The airliner, flying not more than 30 feet off the ground, was attempting an emergency landing after one of its motors had caught fire. It barely missed the breaker, hit the power line and careened 200 feet into a hillside.

300 Reported Dead In China Flood

CANTON, China (AP)—Three hundred persons were reported dead and thousands homeless today as flood waters inundated Taishan county, about 70 miles southwest of here. The reports were not confirmed.

Drivers Lucky To Escape Injury In Highway Accidents

Accidents in Saanich today and on the Malahat yesterday in which two trucks went off the highways and finished upside-down in the brush, resulted in no injuries being suffered by drivers or occupants, police report.

At 8 this morning John Albert Doney, Mount Newton Cross Road, escaped with only an inch-long scratch on his ankle when a B. Wilson Ice Co. truck he was driving with a 1,400-pound load of blocked ice, left the East Saanich Road near Tanner Road and finished up in the ditch with its wheels in the air.

Driver of the light delivery truck owned by Manzer Logging Co., Sooke, escaped unhurt when the vehicle left the road three miles south of the Malahat Summit and wound up in the same position as the ice carrier. Name of the driver was not available.

According to the report made to Sgt. Jack Hamilton and Constable Walter Mycock of Saanich Police by Doney, he was driving north on the East Saanich main artery when a car in front suddenly stopped—apparently to get a better look at the large field of fox gloves and other spring flowers on the east side of the road.

TURNED RIGHT OVER

In order to avoid a collision, Doney said he swerved sharply to the left, got into difficulties in the soft earth off the west side of the road and the truck crashed over on its back. He managed to manoeuvre the truck to avoid a crash with a telephone pole. "I hung on to the wheel with all my strength," said Doney, which is probably the reason why he was able to escape so lightly. Truck damage was light.

House Passes Bill Delaying U.S. Draft Until Next Feb. 1

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House of Representatives today passed a delayed-action draft bill which would not draft anyone before next Feb. 1.

The amendment-loaded measure now goes to the Senate. There it faces a possible filibuster that may kill it unless Congress returns after the political conventions.

The Senate passed a different bill last week. It provided for an immediate draft for two years of service.

The two Houses of Congress battled each other, as well as President Truman, today on the eve of their hoped-for adjournment.

As a result foreign aid, farm housing and other major bills—in addition to the draft—even a final quelling date were tied up in knots of uncertainty.

Another hot Senate-House controversy loomed on the question of price supports for farm products. The Senate Thursday night spurned a House-passed short-term extension of the present program to pass, by a thumping 79 to 3 margin, a long-term bill.

The wide split between House and Senate was eloquently underscored by a conference committee on foreign aid funds. The committee spent all of Thursday stubbornly trying to compromise a $1,000,000,000 difference between bills passed by the two Houses. It got no place.

With all this wrangling between the two Houses over major legislation, the scheduled Saturday adjournment began to look more and more doubtful.

U.S. To Double Fighter Plane Force In Europe

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is doubling its fighter-plane strength in Europe, air force officials said today.

This will be done by shifting a unit of jet planes from Panama to Germany.

At present there is only one group (about 75 planes) of P-47 Second-World-War type conventional fighters based in Germany.

The new fighter wing will double that strength. Moreover, it will mean that the United States for the first time will have an organized force of modern jet interceptors in that troubled area.

(Russia is known to have a number of jet fighters in her air force.)

An air force spokesman said transfer of the fighter wing should be viewed as "part of normal training policy to accustom crews of all United States Air Force planes with operation in any part of the world."

Rain Cuts Hazard In Northern Ontario

TORONTO (CP)—Showers with cooler weather have reduced the forest fire hazard throughout Ontario to medium, with no new fires reported, lands and forests officials said today.

The Sudbury district was opened to travel today, bringing to six the number of potential fire areas where travel restrictions have been removed by the department.

The Mississauga fire, which has devastated almost 400 square miles, was active at two points on its western border, but spread only slightly.

Drastic Monetary Reform Effected In West Germany

BERLIN (AP)—The Western Allies announced tonight a drastic currency reform to reduce the money in circulation in their zones of occupation and pave the way for German participation in the European Recovery Program. They set up a new mark, called the Deutsch mark, and provided for the first steps in taking old marks out of trade channels.

All old money and holdings must be registered next week. There will be a full week's moratorium on all debts in western Germany.

Germans in the western zones may trade 40 old marks for 40 new marks Sunday. This will leave the 45,000,000 residents entitled to hold only the equivalent of $12 each.

The announcement said the rate at which the mark can be converted into or from other moneys will be announced later. The allies also left until later an announcement of how much in savings Germans will be allowed to keep.

Authoritative sources have indicated further laws will reduce savings and business balances by 90 per cent or more. This supposition was supported by a provision in tonight's proclamation.

SMALL CHANGE KEPT

The provision said that small change from the old marks will be kept in circulation temporarily, but at a rate of one new mark for 10 old marks. This small change ranges from one

$3,000 Damage By Fire To Dwelling On Fernwood Road

A fire, which badly burned the upper part of the wooden two-story house at 2832 Fernwood Road last evening, caused about $3,000 worth of damage, it was estimated today by Deputy Fire Chief Phillip Guy of the Victoria Fire Department.

Alarm reached the department at 5. Men and equipment were on the job for more than two hours although the flames were quickly controlled after arrival of the fire-fighting force. There were no injuries to the occupants.

The house is owned by Eric Foster, who lives in the lower half. The upper story, where the fire was concentrated, is occupied by H. E. Norman and family.

While the cause has not been determined, Deputy Fire Chief Guy says it originated in a children's playroom halfway up the stairs to the second story.

Fire produced great volumes of smoke and soon attracted a large crowd.

The flames spread from the playroom to the attic and roof. Firemen had to do a lot of chopping on the roof to get at the flames.

In the house at the time were the two wives and three children, Mrs. Foster and Mrs. Norman smelled the smoke at the same time and turned in the alarm.

The house was soon evacuated. Damage to the Foster half of the house is from water and smoke.

OTTAWA (CP)—Amid a flurry of debate, the Commons today adopted a bill increasing the salary of Lieutenant-Governor Joseph Bernard of Prince Edward Island from $7,000 to $8,000 a year. Speakers on both the government and opposition sides protested against increasing the salaries of higher officials while the average Canadian went without relief from the high cost of living.

2,400 Families Made Homeless, Surveys Show

VANCOUVER (CP)—Fraser River's bill of flood damages will likely mount to $15,000,000, a survey of municipal officials revealed today, but rehabilitation will cost several millions more.

The municipal figures are "preliminary estimates," and do not include damage to roads, rail lines and dikes.

At the same time, the cost of rehabilitating ousted families and ruined land, shared by the provincial and federal governments, is placed between $25,000,000 and $30,000,000.

The survey shows:

1. Approximately 2,400 families have been left homeless by the floods;
2. More than 3,000 houses and barns have been damaged by water and silt, and many broken from their foundations;
3. Total area inundated was approximately 37,000 acres, at the height of the flood. About 18,000 additional acres have been damaged by seepage;
4. Actual livestock loss is less than 100 head. About 25,000 head were safely evacuated;
5. More than 100 bridges were washed out or damaged.

CHILLIWACK HARD HIT

Here is the estimated crop and property damage in the main areas affected:

East Chilliwack, $4,500,000; Matsqui, $4,130,600; Nicomen-Dewdney, $3,500,000; Pitt Meadows, $75,000; Mission, $75,000.

Homeless in affected areas are:
Chilliwack, 400 families; Nicomen-Dewdney, 200 families; Matsqui, 350 families; Pitt Meadows, 260 families; Sumas, 350 evacuated families; Langley, 100 families; other areas, 740 families.

Acres damaged in worst areas is:
Agassiz 12,000, Matsqui 10,500, Pitt Meadows 7,000, Chilliwack 8,200.

Livestock saved:
Matsqui 11,000 head, Sumas 9,000 head, Nicomen-Dewdney 2,000 cattle, Chilliwack 1,600 cattle, Agassiz 1,400 head.

Bridges damaged or missing:
Agassiz 25 spans, Matsqui 19 spans, Langley municipality 20 spans, Chilliwack 18 spans.

FODDER PROBLEM

As the valley's evacuated hundreds begin the long road back to rehabilitation, one of their major problems is fodder for the cattle. Current stocks were destroyed, and farmers are being forced to cut "green crop," which would normally be saved for winter feed.

In the Agassiz area an 85 per cent loss in milk production has been recorded and charged against inadequate feeding.

The damage bill does not include the cost of fighting the floods, much of which was borne by municipalities before the army took over.

Reserve Army Flood Fighters Returning To Victoria Today

Three hundred and fifty Reserve Army men returned to Victoria today for a well-earned rest after fighting lower Mainland flood for more than two weeks.

The reserve units left Vancouver this morning aboard the Charlotte and were taken to the Bay Street Armories for a box lunch before being discharged from their units.

The Victoria contingent, which was called for emergency duty on the Fraser River is mostly composed of men from the 1st Battalion, Canadian Scottish Regiment (Princess Mary's). The unit supplied 223 men.

The 5th (B.C.) Heavy A.A. Regiment has 79 men returning to Victoria; the 13th Field Ambulance 14; and the 58th and 9th L.A.A. Workshops (R.C.E.M.E.) 33. This includes officers.

A few of the men are being left behind to bring back several vehicles which were used in the flood area. The contingent is under the command of Col. R. D. Travis, M.B.E., E.D., C.O. of the Canadian Scottish. He was in command of the reserve force during the flood.

The men, before being disbanded will be inoculated against typhoid.

Montreal Robbers Escape With Hospital $12,000 Payroll

MONTREAL (CP)—Two armed bandits today stole the $12,000 payroll of the western division of the Montreal General Hospital and made their getaway in a stolen taxicab.

Two hospital employees were alighting from a car with the money when a taxi drove up to the door. The bandits shoved them into the cab, got in with them and forced the driver, Frank Edmonds, to drive on.

Later on the armed men pushed the employees and taxi man out of the car and one of them took over the wheel. Edmonds told police he tried to follow his taxi in another car, but lost track of the fugitives.

Conditions In Japan Better Than In Germany

KURE, Japan (AP)—Lt. Gen. H. G. H. The commander of British Commonwealth occupation forces said he had found conditions in Britain "have eased slightly... but they are still very tough."

State Of Emergency For All Malaya As Terrorism Mounts

SINGAPORE (AP)—A state of emergency was declared tonight in the entire federation of Malaya.

Sir Edward Gent, the High Commissioner, acted in an effort to stem the mounting wave of terrorism, believed started by Communists. Four murders, one attempted murder and two cases of arson were reported in the last 24 hours.

All nine Malayan states are included in the order. Previously, only Johore and Perak states were deemed emergency areas. Police were given sweeping powers.

In Johore, 25 Chinese raided an estate at Senai and killed the Chinese foreman. Another gang raided the Young Peng Union rubber estate and burned four rubber smokehouses and other houses and buildings.

Four Malays murdered a Moslem priest in Kelantan state. Twenty-four persons, including five Britons, have been killed during violence of the last seven weeks in Malaya.

King Plans Fund To Beautify Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister King gave the Commons notice today he will move for creation of a national capital fund from which Parliament can make annual appropriations to carry out projects for the beautification and development of the Ottawa area.

He placed on the order paper a long resolution that would recognize that the job of creation of a truly capital area "is at least in part a national responsibility."

Jacques Greber, French town planner, has been in charge of a group that has been planning the development for months. The eventual program would take "many years" to carry out, Mr. Greber recently told a Senate committee.

The resolution recognizes that "the requirements of a national capital involve, from time to time, developments of a character beyond the municipal improvements ordinarily required in other cities."

Urges Banning Of Pulp Magazines

QUALICUM BEACH (CP)—A resolution banning sale or display of crime comics and other "salacious literature" in provincial drugstores was endorsed Thursday by the British Columbia Pharmaceutical Association, in convention here.

However, the resolution will be effective only if the ban is adhered to by all members of the 57-year-old association.

The resolution was endorsed following an address on the subject by Mrs. C. W. Mellich of Vancouver, a past-president of the B.C. Parent-Teacher Association.

Motor Car Would Not Start; Appeal Expected

VANCOUVER (CP)—Hope that his decision in a county court appeal will be taken to the British Columbia Court of Appeal was expressed today by Judge Bruce Boyd.

Judge Boyd quashed the conviction of J. H. Conlin, who had been found guilty of being in charge of an automobile while intoxicated. He found Conlin was intoxicated and totally incapacitated, but ruled him entitled to an acquittal because the car would not start.

Judge Boyd said he hoped the case would go to the Appeal Court for a ruling, because decisions of appeal courts across Canada have been contradictory on the point in question.

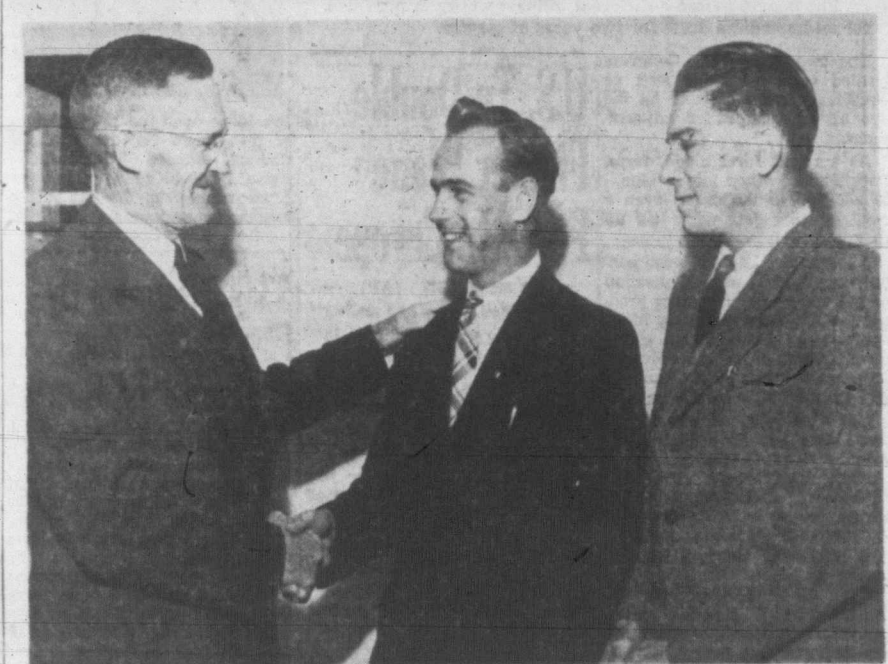

EAGER BEAVER—With a crisis over the agreements on Germany threatening France's coalition cabinet, Gen. Charles de Gaulle has offered to assume the leadership of the country. 300 At Normal School Closing Banquet Biggest class to attend the Provincial Normal School at Victoria since the years following the First World War, completed the year's work Thursday. The class of 144 pupils is shown writing final examination, on mathematics.

H. O. English, principal of Provincial Normal School, congratulates Stanley S. Cains of Sooke, winner of the Denton Memorial Award, which goes to the student whom embodies to the greatest degree all those qualities sought in a teacher. Also pictured is Allan G. MacKenzie of Fort Saskatchewan, Alta., president of the Students' Council.

Nearly 300 persons attended the closing banquet and dance of the 1947-48 class of the Provincial Normal School, the biggest class since the years following the first world war, at Royal Colwood Golf Club Thursday night.

Hon. W. T. Straith, K.C., Minister of Education, in replying to the toast to the Department of Education, told the graduating class of 144 some of the hopes and plans of the government for improvements in education and school buildings. He stated the Cameron Report was not responsible for all the increased cost of education during the past two years.

Scholarship, ability in athletics, music and drama and personality are among the qualities sought in the student who is given the Denton Memorial Award, H. O. English, principal of the Normal School, told the gathering. The student who embodies to the greatest degree all those qualities sought in the modern teacher is given the award, he said.

Quality of the work and the attitude of students toward their profession was praised by Walter Brynjolfson, a critic teacher and principal of Monterey School, who represented teachers of the area. H. C. Gilliland, vice-prin-pal of the Normal School, responded to the toast to the faculty.

Belief that a teacher does more effective work when he practises what he preaches, was expressed by Ken Burkinshaw of Royal Oak who gave the valedictory. He spoke of the experiences of student days and told of the students' philosophy of education.

Among the guests were J. F. K. English, municipal inspector of schools, F. T. Fairie, deputy minister of education and J. E. Brown, school inspector, Saanich, Sooke and Duncan. Among those contributing to the entertainment were Isobel Leask and Ray Thompson.

Loyalty Test For Federal Employees

OTTAWA (CP)—Loyalty of employees in key government departments is being tested in a series of searching questionnaires, it was learned Thursday.

Patterned along the same lines as those undertaken in Britain and the United States, the questionnaires are described as aimed at screening out employees who might be potential violators of the Official Secrets Act.

While government sources were reluctant to discuss the purposes of the move, it was made clear today that it is directed largely at possible Communists in the service.

Departments undergoing the examination are External Affairs, National Defence and the National Research Council, one of whose chief functions is the handling of Canada's part in the development of atomic energy.

In Britain and the U.S. the governments have made no bones about the fact they are engaged in weeding out suspected Communist sympathizers.

Long Stage Production Career Of Earl Carroll Ended By Crash

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Earl Carroll, at 54, was long famed as the proponent of the "most beautiful girls in the world."

He was one of 43 killed Thursday in the crash of a United Airlines DC-6 plane, San Diego to New York, at Mt. Carmel, Pa.

After years of glorifying feminine pulchritude on the New York stage, he created his Hollywood theatre-restaurant, a mecca for movie-land visitors.

"Through these portals pass the most beautiful girls in the world" was the slogan of his theatre, and the girls seldom belied the claim.

Carroll, born of Irish parents in Pittsburgh, Pa., on Sept. 16, 1893, early sank roots in show business. At the age of 10 he was giving penny-admission performances in his basement.

He became acquainted with Sarah Bernhardt, Richard Mansfield and other old-time theatre greats by selling programs and working backstage while still in high school.

He first turned to song-writing and wrote nearly 400 numbers, including songs for "So Long Letty," "Florabella," and "Canary Cottage."

In 1926 Carroll paid a $2,000 fine and served four months of a one-year sentence in the Atlanta federal prison on a charge of perjury in connection with a much-publicized bathtub theatre party.

Mrs. Jack Oakie, divorced wife of the film comedian, and Actress Beryl Wallace were among other passengers who lost their lives in the crash.

Mrs. Oakie was the former Venita Varden, an actress. She was said by friends to have become reconciled with Oakie, but they had not yet remarried.

Miss Wallace, known as one of Hollywood's most attractive women, for several years had been the star of the stage show at Carroll's famous theatre-restaurant on Sunset Boulevard. It is widely frequented by the famous and near-famous in studio and radio circles, and by the out of town sightseers.

Tow Houses, Barns Back To Sites

VANCOUVER (CP) — "Operation Salvage" was under way today in the Fraser Valley as soldiers and civilians combined to put back homes and buildings swept from their foundations by floods.

In the Hatzic district, where the dikes collapsed June 3, an army amphibian craft and a power launch towed houses and barns back to their original locations.

Some buildings were floated as far as two miles from foundations.

Died Of Injuries

DUNCAN (CP) — A coroner's jury has found that George R. Johnson, 58, died in hospital Monday from injuries received three years ago.

Johnson, an employee of the Lake Cowichan Electric Company, suffered injuries in a pole mishap during June, 1945. He had been in hospital three times since that date.

The jury's verdict attributed death to the injuries sustained in 1945 and the fatality as accidental without blame to anyone.

Briefly Held Captive By Rioting Union

During height of riot between members of Canadian Seamen's Union and Canadian Lake Seamen's Union at Cornwall, Ont., C.S.U. members forced a C.S.L.U. captive into their truck after allegedly beating the man and tearing his clothing. Royal Canadian Mounted Police finally rescued the man, Fred Blackburn and found him to be suffering from severe lacerations.

Wild Buying Spree Staged In Germany

FRANKFURT (AP) — Thousands of frantic buyers swarmed almost empty stores today in an effort to trade in their old marks before currency reform takes effect in western Germany. (Later they learned officially the regulations would come into force Sunday.)

There was little to buy, but the Germans snapped up everything they could lay hands on. Many owners withheld goods until the new money is issued.

Prices soared dizzily today as the Germans spent their old marks like water. The black market price of the dollar rose to 1,000 marks. Cigarettes, kingpin of western German economy, brought 18 marks each.

Foodstuffs on the black market rose several hundred per cent. Legitimate food stores were jammed with people trying to buy salt, vinegar and other unrationed items.

"It is the most amazing thing I have ever seen," said a chain store manager. "People are buying rubbish they would not have dreamed of buying a week ago."

2 More Chinese Murdered In Malaya

SINGAPORE (AP) — Two Chinese were murdered Thursday evening with a shower of bullets in a night in Kedah state, bringing the death toll for seven weeks of violence in Malaya to 17 Chinese and five Britons.

A Chinese contractor, Chong Fee-nam, was shot in his home on the Dublin estate, owned by Malayan-American Plantations, a subsidiary of the United States Rubber Co.

Dispatches from Kuala Lumpur said today the entire Malayan federation is expected to be declared in a state of emergency because of the current lawlessness.

British officers of the Malayan police on home leave were said to have been ordered to fly back to Malaya.

This is not indicative of the full amount contributed from this area, for industries, and some organizations have forwarded their contributions separately from this section. The amount above is from business and contributions collected from jars placed in stores and schools.

Ontario M.P.'s Ask Government Move To Lower Cost Of Living

OTTAWA (CP) — A group of Ontario Liberal members of Parliament met Prime Minister King Thursday and urged the government do something drastic not only to stop the upward trend in the cost of living but to reduce the existing levels.

Members stated — afterwards that Mr. King had given them an understanding reception and promised to bring their representations immediately to the attention of the cabinet.

The principal suggestions were to revive subsidies on foods as a temporary measure and to take off the recently-imposed excise taxes in connection with the program to conserve United States dollars.

Carrot Prices Fixed As Imports Halted

OTTAWA (CP) — The prices board has slapped a seven-cent-a-pound ceiling on Canadian-grown carrots.

The ceiling, with transportation charges added, came into effect today and is applied at the producer level.

As these new carrots are customarily sold with tops on, the board stipulated that if sold in this way the carrots must have full fresh tops, must be sold in bunches, and have a maximum diameter of not more than one and one-quarter inches.

Wholesalers are allowed a mark-up of 10 per cent and retailers buying from wholesalers are permitted a mark-up — or margin of profit — of 30 per cent. Retailers buying direct from a producer are allowed a mark-up of 25 per cent.

The consumer price for carrots will be approximately 11 cents a pound when they are sold in the area in which they are grown. However, if it is necessary to transport them any great distance the prices may be one to two cents higher.

Simultaneously, the emergency import control division of the Department of Finance, announced that the general permit for importation of carrots is no longer valid in British Columbia, Ontario and Quebec. This action was taken because domestic carrots already are appearing on local markets in these provinces.

Alaska Fishermen Reject Price Offer

ASTORIA, Ore. (AP) — Alaska fishermen have rejected canners' salmon price offer and a union spokesman said it might mean "indefinite delay" in the Alaska fishing season opening.

The spokesman, who asked that his name should not be used, said members of the Alaska Fishermen's Union had voted at Astoria, Seattle, San Francisco and Portland to reject the price offer. He said it was: Thirty cents each for reds and cohoes, $1.30 each for kings, 14½ cents each for chums and 7½ cents each for pinks.

The union had asked 32 cents for reds and comparable increases for other salmon. The offered price is about 20 per cent above that paid last year.

The offer was from the Alaska Salmon Industry Inc., canners' group. They had planned to fly fishermen to Alaska for opening of the salmon season late this month.

Appeal For Pumps

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — Vancouver authorities appealed to this city's waterworks department today for a loan of heavy duty pumps to help curb British Columbia flood waters.

V. A. McKillop ordered an immediate inventory of available equipment.

Mr. McKillop said however that all pumps here are powered with 25 cycle electric motors. These will not operate on B.C.'s 60 cycle power.

"However, if they can reconcile this difficulty we will give them what we have," he said.

The pumps sought are capable

To Carry On Business Until Forced To Stop

VANCOUVER (CP) — The North Pacific Health and Accident Association plans to carry on business until "forced to close," said manager J. R. R. Moffat here Thursday.

The association was refused a provincial government license Wednesday, and a warning was issued by S. W. Taylor, superintendent of insurance, that it would be subject to prosecution under the Insurance Act if it should continue to operate.

Mr. Taylor said the association would be denied a license until it could prove financial solvency.

"They cannot operate without a license and they have not got permission to carry on as an unlicensed body," he said.

Mr. Moffat said today the association would operate until "we receive official notice that we must close, and this we have not had."

"We will not let our members down without a fight," he added.

He charged the provincial insurance department had not given "the association time to meet requirements under the Insurance Act."

FOR NATIONAL SECURITY

PROVIDED THE LOYALTY TESTS NOW being made in certain key departments of the Dominion's service in Ottawa succeed in reaffirming the status of those conscious of their obligations to Canada and in plugging any leaks of information which might be detrimental to the country's security, the policy adopted by the government will have achieved its purpose. That it is unfortunately necessary to take such precautions has been abundantly proved by events which have transpired in recent times. The so-called "spy trials" are a case in point. Under the circumstances, and in view of the uncertainties of the day, no chances may be taken where the welfare of the nation is at stake.

The manner in which the tests are carried out will, of course, determine their acceptability to the people of the Dominion. It is to be expected that certain elements will seek to make political capital of the policy on the grounds that such measures constitute an invasion of the traditional rights of the individual. To avoid furnishing grounds for such a charge, it is vitally important that the investigations do not degenerate into a witch-hunt. Canadians would be justifiably indignant, for instance, if anyone of sound character and judgment and whose allegiance to the country were subjected to similar treatment to that accorded Mr. David Lillenthal on political grounds when this distinguished United States citizen was elevated to his atomic energy post.

At the same time, the condition of the world today furnishes ample evidence of the necessity for care in selecting staff to be entrusted with highly confidential information. The situation calls for personal qualifications beyond competency in a specific job. In addition to technical ability, administrative efficiency and other requirements, the men and women in the Defence and External Affairs Departments and those connected with the National Research Council must possess judgment and discretion which will protect them from inadvertent disclosures prejudicial to the safety of Canada.

Few, if any, cases are expected to be disclosed in which an employee would stoop to selling out his or her country on purely venal grounds. The danger does exist, however, that heedlessness and lack of caution could be as injurious as intentional disclosures. It remains for the authorities, of course, to see that no foolish excesses are perpetrated in the name of investigation.

OUT OF ADVERSITY

A BRIGHTER ASPECT OF THE RE-ports of misfortune that have been coming from the flooded areas of the mainland is seen in the statement of Dr. W. R. Gunn, provincial livestock commissioner, that the toll of animals has been very low. Early stories from the inundated territory raised fears that a considerable mortality would result, but it now appears that efforts of farmers and relief workers have been successful in keeping losses to a minimum. In the words of Dr. Gunn, "Losses scarcely exist."

There is no intention in this comment to belittle the extent of other damage inflicted by the rampaging rivers. The property losses are all too serious—houses, farm buildings, crops and the land itself having suffered severely. But there is at least gratification—both economic and humanitarian—in the knowledge that the herds of livestock have escaped. Efforts now are directed toward eliminating the threat of disease, and it is hoped that they will be equally successful.

IN COMPETENT HANDS

BOTH VANCOUVER'S AFTERNOON newspapers seem to be getting somewhat impatient because Premier Johnson has not already stated in specific detail just what his government is prepared to do for the flood sufferers of British Columbia.

The Daily Province headed its leading editorial on Wednesday as follows: "Time to Get Down to Brass Tacks." It went on to say that "nobody should expect the governments (our contemporary had addressed its injunction to Ottawa as well as Victoria) to pop up with a cut and dried relief program covering every situation and anticipating every contingency."

The most appropriate comment on the final intimation that "we want Victoria and Ottawa to get down to brass tacks" is that 24 hours earlier the Daily Province, in common with other dailies, had published the announcement that Mr. Johnson had convoked a special session of the Legislature. What for? "To Get Down to Brass Tacks."

Also on Wednesday, having noted the call for a meeting of the lawmakers for July 7, the Vancouver Sun's leading editorial was headed: "What policy, Mr. Premier?" and asked what the Provincial government would recommend to the B.C. Legislature when it meets. "Do the people most directly concerned," it went on, "have to wait three weeks to find out?" Then came this peremptory demand on the head of the government: "Answer those questions, Premier Johnson, so that the people of British Columbia may know where you stand." Again: "Until the answers are given, the hapless dwellers on the banks of B.C.'s raging rivers are left prey to the suspicion that public authorities are looking for a way to crawl on their promises of 'fullest aid'."

Most people, of course, know where Mr. Johnson stands; many know that he also has stood among the "hapless dwellers" and understands fully what it is necessary to do.

But the popular Vancouver Sun appears to have had other liquid matters on its editorial mind last Wednesday. For example, it used up seven inches of black type, double-column measure, on the front page of the same issue in which it demanded an immediate and precise and detailed formula for flood relief to inform its readers that the Johnson-Anscomb government was operating with a "speakeasy mentality." Why? Because it has not amended the liquor laws of the province so that they will "comply with the moral standards of the people as a whole." Therefore: "The sensible thing would be to legalize the sale of liquor by the glass in cocktail bars or night clubs, as they do in civilized communities"—and thus prevent flagrant abuses of the existing statute.

Our Vancouver contemporary is entitled to its own opinions in respect of British Columbia's liquor laws. However, when it says that "unfortunately, the present government is not intellectually honest," because "it is cursed with a speakeasy mentality where liquor is concerned," it might be more consistent. Surely its "What Policy, Mr. Premier?" editorial, according to its own argument, should have had major prominence.

MILK PRICE RISE

NO VICTORIA HOUSEHOLDER ENJOYS paying an additional two cents a quart for milk any more than he or she is enthusiastic about paying more for any of the other necessities of life. Nor are producers and distributors unmindful of the fact that higher prices can cut down their sales. But if the producer and the distributor are to remain in business—if they are to be kept in a position in which they can supply the requirements of the consumers—they need a compensatory increase in the cost of their product to help them to meet the rising prices of the commodities which they must buy.

It is not enough merely to cast a cynical eye at the bottle of milk which rests on the doorstep every morning and wonder why this inanimate object should be worth two cents more than it was a day or two ago. It is necessary to see in the milk the end product of an industry which has been subject to extreme inflationary pressures. The farmer has to pay more for the grain he buys, more for the labor on his farm, and more for the personal requisites of life. The distributor has seen his costs rise all along the line since the beginning of the year—costs of labor, bottles, caps, fuel, and the gasoline which powers his trucks. As a result of the increase, according to our information, the producer will receive another 55 cents and the distributor another 22 cents for every 100 pounds of milk. That, in brief, is the story behind the rise.

The case for the farmer needs little recapitulation here. His is no easy job in regulated hours. Nor will the increase help him to do much more than break even. On the basis of government figures, slightly more young people have gone into the dairy business on the Lower Island since the beginning of the year than have retired from it. The number of newcomers, however, is not sufficient to make an appreciable difference in bridging the gap between production and consumption in this district. In other words, the returns from the industry are not sufficient, and will not be sufficient even with the increase, to create an influx into the milk-producing end of agriculture on Vancouver Island. These are some of the factors which should temper resentment on the part of the consumer against the two-cent rise which became effective this week.

HIGHER, FASTER, FARTHER

A CONFERENCE OF INTEREST to laymen as well as scientists is that convened this week in Toronto to study problems of health under the rigorous conditions of modern speed and altitude flying. Six hundred medical men from over a dozen countries discussed research and viewed the exhibits of the R.C.A.F. institute of aviation medicine. It is hoped that greater knowledge of equipment and processes ensuring the greater safety and comfort of aircrew and passengers will result.

The difficulties to be overcome in modern flying are far removed from those of normal living conditions. Temperatures which may range in a short time from 95 degrees above to 30 below zero call for something unusual in the way of clothing and insulation. Supersonic flying speeds, vibration, pressure changes, centrifugal blackout, and other questions are still engaging the attention of the scientists. From their work will come aids to enable man to adapt himself to fit the strange new world he is constructing. The wonders of today will become the familiar routine of tomorrow.

A watchful press exposes folly and corruption; but alas! when people read so much bad news, they become bored and indifferent.

Advice To Graduates

Royal Bank of Canada Letter

VERY FEW people progress in this world if knowledge has had to be forced upon them, or if it is handed them on a silver platter with second helpings when they spill one serving. The people who succeed are invariably those who have a thirst for knowledge, go out and secure their knowledge in one way or another, and then put it to work.

It is obviously in the skilled occupations that education is of most value, for there it provides background against which competent handling of situations may be erected. This is where vocational guidance has its most worth while sphere of activity. It is a major responsibility, these days, to guide young men and women so that they shall make the best use of their natural skills and acquired knowledge in work suited to their interests and capacities.

ONE WAY to attract favorable notice is by taking extra care so as to earn a reputation for dependability. This means looking beyond the day's work, and accepting responsibility. Dependability is not achieved by listening to lectures, but by thought, hard work and self-denial.

Dependability means being able to trust your own conclusions arrived at after your best consideration. A man who wants advice before he does anything important can never be depended upon in business. Dependability demands that if you happen to be wrong you admit it quickly and emphatically. There is no more effective way of demonstrating dependability than to speak out when you know you are right, and to admit unhesitatingly when you are wrong.

THESE things enter into personality, which is the sum total of the effect we have on other people. The enterprising, energetic, dependable man has an authentic dignity. The outward appearance is only the manifestation of something inside. This something usually inclines a man to take the gentle, the favorable, the indulgent view of his companion's failings, and to be courteous even under provocation.

Personality may be modified by temperament. Everyone is entitled to a temperament, provided it doesn't get in the way of his advancement. Temperament is merely a natural disposition which determines how we feel and act at various times and under various circumstances. The author, artist, poet, sculptor and actor are excused much because people subscribe to the dictum of the German philosopher that "One must have chaos in one to give birth to a dancing star," but ordinary people cannot get away with many temperamental tantrums.

THEN A STRATEGY must be worked out. Every man must plan his own strategy, based upon his peculiar abilities. David couldn't fight Goliath with Saul's weapons, and a man who knows he has not a genius for fighting must learn how to prosper by the arts of peace. In any event, wise strategy makes an alliance with circumstances which in case of success will follow up the pursuit, and in case of reverse will screen the retreat.

What a youth does after graduation depends largely upon his ambition. He needs to study his objective and decide what to give up in the interests of success, because by this time he knows that nothing is to be gained except by giving up something else.

THOSE SUCCEED best, and probably most easily, who form definite ideas of what they are going to do before they start to do it. A specific, concrete and definite aim gives the mind unity of action.

Next to the ill-repute of the immature "big-shot" is that of the "little-shot." He is usually a clock watcher, whose criteria of a job are the amount of time off, short hours and long vacation with pay. Little shots go into tedious and devious detail every time a superior asks them for a report. They make their jobs appear difficult, and think they are giving an impression of the vast amount of work they do. Behind the smoke screen is usually found mental laziness and haziness. They have no idea of how to glide over the unimportant and do give proper attention to the important things.

OBVIOUSLY, this business of getting the right job and then getting on in it means more than merely answering an advertisement and reporting for duty. An important thing is to realize that at once, and start now to do something about it. People who postpone are lacking in drive efficiency. That boyhood superman to many of us, Napoleon, remarked that no blunder in war or politics is so common as that which arises from missing the proper moment of exertion.

HAVING planned well and having got started, look for ideas. Almost any idea that jolts one out of current smugness is better than none. Make your own program so long and so hard that the people who praise you for a good piece of work will always seem to you to be talking about something very trivial in comparison with what you are really trying to do.

This discussion should not be allowed to leave the impression that if he uses certain strategy the graduate's life will be easy. The price of success is readily stated: start where you are now, without waiting for a "good break"; throw wishing overboard and do something substantial and realistic about preparing for the next highest post; find out what obstacles there are and plan to surmount them by developing capability and directing it effectively; then keep going.

Invitation To Fisticuffs

Delicate Job In Germany

By JAMES THRASHER from New York

THE SIX-POWER agreement on western Germany seems good as far as it goes. That is about all that can be expected from such an agreement, which is essentially only a blueprint for action. But at least the six governments have faced up to the most immediate and important problems, and have achieved a respectable compromise.

The history of the last 30 years, and particularly the last three, had left little room for argument on these basic facts: Russia's obstructionist policy makes Big Four agreement on a peace treaty for all Germany impossible at this time.

The recovery of western Europe depends on the strengthening of German industry. At the same time industrial production and distribution must be carefully controlled. Germany must be started toward self-government. But a strongly centralized, independent Germany would again become a danger to world peace.

RUSSIAN BID

Russia is making a strong bid for popularity with talk of a "unified" Germany. This appeals more to the tradition of German political thought than the promise of a loosely-federated democracy, though the intelligent German must know that this "unified" Germany would be a police-ruled satellite of the Communist empire.

These are ingredients of the complicated situation that the six governments tackled when they met in London. France and her neighbors brought with them a well-founded fear of Germany, based on two devastating invasions in this century. They may not have got all they wanted, but they did receive some comforting assurances.

The United States and Britain will not withdraw their troops from Germany "until the peace of Europe is secured." This obviously means that the occupation will last as long as there is a threat of war with Russia.

VETO POWER

The occupying powers will have the power of veto over any constitution drawn up by the western German states. They will have control over Germany's disarmament and demilitarization, and over the level of industrial production and certain projects of scientific research.

Specifically, the production and distribution of the Ruhr industries will be in the hands of the occupying powers. Access to the Ruhr's coal, coke and steel will be open to the co-operating Marshall Plan countries. An inspection system will be set up to continue these safeguards when the occupation is finally ended.

Now that the blueprint is finished the delicate job of administration must be considered. This will call for highest statesmanship and wisest judgment. The responsibility lies heavily on the American and British governments.

Recently there have been a lot of rumors that private business interests are working for a moderate control of Ruhr production in the hope of a big clean-up when that production gets rolling. Any such finagling, of course, would be a catastrophe.

DIFFICULT

It will be a difficult job to keep Germany economically strong and politically harmless. But it must be done. For if it is not a revived Reich finally succeeds in bringing about a war between Russia and the west, and emerge as the ruling power of a wrecked Europe. To avoid this it will be necessary to do more than govern by military order. The limited renaissance of Germany will require management that is not only intelligent but incorruptible.

By A. J. MARSHALL, Australian scientist, in London Calling

TODAY, there is an exodus from Germany of practically every German who can possibly get away. Many of the wealthier ones are getting out—legally, of course—to South America. Of another class, many scientists are leaving the country for newer, freer fields, too, including Australia. Scientifically, most of these men are absolutely first-rate, and of all countries, Australia needs trained brains badly. We can only hope that those who are sent out will be as good potential citizens as they are working scientists.

TAKING EVERYTHING

In this field, the Russians are being extremely intelligent: they are going to unexpected lengths to keep scientists in their zone, to continue working—if the scientists show themselves willing to do so, of course.

The Russians are ruthlessly and systematically denuding their zone of Germany of everything of any conceivable value. Train services are in a shocking condition through bomb and demolition damage, anyway, and the Russians have made them worse by stripping the second track of all railway routes, in order to replace the tracks destroyed in Russia by the Germans.

Anything they want—including the glorious, red-and-green-marble halls of Hitler's Reich chancellery—the Russians are shipping steadily back to their homeland; in small token payment, they say, for the damage that Hitler's troops did on their thrust east into Russia. All that, of course, will inevitably postpone Germany's recovery as a self-supporting European country that will not be a burden round the neck of the other countries which were compelled to smash her.

DESOLATION AND DAMAGE

Before I went to Germany, I was told that the place was devastated, that the country was a wreck. I expected war damage, then; but still I was startled, shocked, by what I saw. The desolation and damage was appalling—not only in the industrial parts of the cities, but even in residential areas, you could find hardly a house standing. And even villages, miles and miles away from anything remotely concerned with the German war effort, were flattened. I saw gigantic bridges grotesquely twisted and smashed, like a child's mecano set destroyed with a sledge-hammer; and line upon line of gaunt, blackened warehouse skeletons hanging together on every

Signs And Portents

J. L. Rutledge Clip-Sheet
Out in Lexington, Illinois, a tobacco salesman hadn't waited for letters in the newspapers explaining the recent improvement in stock market prices. He had devised his own explanation.

He was already sure that prosperity was on the way and that without machinations on anyone's part. Discarded cigarette butts, he argued, were averaging 1½ inches long. That was approximately the same as discarded butts had been in 1920. Obviously, therefore, prosperity was at hand. Everything considered, we feel that the salesman has very much the best of the argument.

A DEADLY process is under way in Korea.

As in Germany, the prospect is for two separate governments in one homogenous area so strategic that big powers cannot ignore what becomes of it.

Russia encourages the northern Korean government, and in the south the United States and the United Nations back the government recently formed in Seoul. Both regimes claim authority to rule all Korea.

If this situation seems to reflect the stability of the Russo-American deadlock causing it, that is not necessarily true of the Koreans themselves, who could upset it at any time.

The chances for such an upset will be increased if occupation forces withdraw before the possible causes of internal Korean conflict are removed.

PROSPECTIVE TROUBLE

Russia already has withdrawn part of her troops and is more or less during the United States to withdraw too. As this may become politically necessary, American occupation families are to be sent home soon.

Meanwhile, the prospect for trouble among the Koreans is growing rather than diminishing. This is shown by the way Dr. Syngman Rhee, the conservative president of the southern Korean government, openly favors American troops staying in spite of the known unpopularity of any occupation troops in Korea.

Despite the majority victory which Dr. Rhee and his right-wing political groups won in the recent election in the south, there is still widespread opposition to him there, much of it underground.

This movement contains Communists, moderates, and even some rival right-wing elements. Many of these diverse elements are known to feel that a Russo-American war is inevitable and that the sooner it takes place the better for Korea.

FREEDOM OF AIR

Windsor Star
How to make the air safe for birds is the latest problem to confront the Provincial-Dominion Wildlife Conference.
"Free as the bird in the air" has lost its meaning. Man has invaded the avian realm, with bigger (although not necessarily better) aces, so what are the poor birds going to do?
After all, the air belonged to them first. But then, North America belonged to the Indians, first, too.

AMAZING PREDICTION

Edmonton Journal
Hon. Solon Low has made the most amazing political prediction in history. He has told a press conference in Quebec that Social Credit will form the next government in Saskatchewan!

If Social Credit does out any government, even a Socialist government, when everyone is enjoying good times, it will be "one for the book." And that goes for almost any party-in-power when prosperity reigns. The government loves to take credit for it all, even good crop weather, and many a voter at such a time is content to take a government at its word!

TREASON?

Montreal Star
In another department of this page, there has been published a shameful canard, to wit that anglers are merely low characters, scheming truants from domesticity, whose choice among recreations bears the same scent as the fish they seek; that a fishing trip is no more than an excuse to get away from wife and family for a bit, under flimsy but hitherto-respected pretext.

What sort of talk is this from a man who at other times has not only held out Esau's hands for examination but spoken in Esau's very voice? A man who has brought a faraway look into the eyes of thousands of readers of his merry tales of outdoor life? A man who—we could go on and on.

What sort of a man is he who can thus maliciously sell out his whole sex, a traitor not to a class but to half the race, by giving away lodge secrets like that? That was a bit that might far better have been left tucked away in the bottom of the pack-sack.
What else but sour grapes produces that sort of mouth-pudding? Y-a-a-h, tattletale!

Growing Demands Stress Hospital's Financial Need

A record-breaking year in which the total operating revenues exceeded a million dollars for the first time in the hospital's history was reviewed in the 58th annual report of the Royal Jubilee Hospital for 1947, at a meeting in the Nurses' Home, Thursday night.

Reports told that despite increased revenues from patients' fees—$100,000 over 1946—and increased grants from civic and provincial governments, general revenue fell far short of the costs of operation. Principal increases in cost of supplies were in medical and surgical, $35,147, and dietary, $29,348.

Throughout all reports rang the theme expressed by Dr. J. L. Murray Anderson, medical superintendent.

"The increased desire for hospitalization has made heavy demands on both patient accommodation and on the hospital services."

DANGEROUSLY OVERCROWDED

Needs for enlarged accommodation in a number of departments and for further financial relief from the provincial government were stressed. Crowding of the children's ward and continuous use of the psychopathic ward since March with a capacity number of patients was outlined.

The laboratory, pharmacy and laundry were termed dangerously overcrowded.

Expenditure exceeded operating revenue by $87,106 before depreciation and by $138,596 including depreciation. Special grants of $87,000 by the city of Victoria and the three adjoining municipalities reduced the deficit to $51,596.

To offset the increased revenue an automatic increase in write-off for indigents of 44%, from $145,879 in 1947 to $210,967 in 1948, was forecast by E. W. McMullen, honorary treasurer in his report which was given by Aid. H. M. Diggin in the absence of Mr. McMullen, who is confined to hospital. He said the hospital had increased day rates to meet in part the ever-mounting costs of salaries, wages and supplies. He said there would no doubt be some increase in the reserve for doubtful accounts for the year 1948.

"The year 1947 was one in which many records were again broken and notwithstanding many difficulties and administrative changes, the hospital is serving the sick of this community to an extent greater than ever before," George C. Harris, acting secretary, said in his report.

J. L. Hobbs, president of the board of directors gave the first report outlining hospital operation and activity for the year.

"In April, 1947, there was a peak occupancy of 74 mothers with their babies in the maternity building," he said. "During the year there were 1,676 births, with our highest number of births in any previous year being 1,146."

"In June a 'blue baby' was successfully operated upon. This operation, the first of its kind in Victoria, has since been repeated on other small patients."

"Throughout the year, the psychopathic ward has been in continuous use and since March has always been filled to capacity," Mr. Hobbs said. "It will be remembered this building was erected and equipped by the Provincial government, for use as a guide, to their future policy, as regards treatment of incipient mental illness. The work done in this department has been abundantly justified and already there is a demand for enlarged accommodation."

MUST MAKE APPEAL

Mr. McMullen in his report said the hospital would be forced to make another appeal to the friends of the Jubilee Hospital in the near future, as soon as there is a lull in the endless number of public appeals.

"We must endeavor to repay the amount borrowed from operating account to build the Nurses' Home addition and to find $30,000 for enlarging the laundry building," he said.

Discussing the hospital's financial position up to March 15 of this year, Mr. McMullen's report said liabilities to suppliers have increased to $92,234, a large part of which is overdue.

"Since the end of the year 1947, we have received a special grant of $17,691 from the Provincial government and hope for a further grant from the $300,000 fund," Mr. McMullen said.

He noted that no addition to the accommodation had been made despite the greatly expanded services, with a long waiting list of alterations, improvements and additions. "The sum of $50,000 is urgently needed to build an addition to the laundry building and to make the necessary alterations to provide larger accommodation for the laboratory and pharmacy," he said.

Shorter Term In Hospital Increases Total Admissions

Shorter stay of patients in hospital in 1947 was reflected in the increased number of admissions, with 10,923, an increase of 1,055 admissions over the year 1946, noted in the report of George C. Harris, acting secretary, received at the 58th annual meeting of Royal Jubilee Hospital, held in the Nurses' Home, Thursday night.

"On account of the increased demand for hospitalization, the total number of patient days was 142,794, an increase of 4,993 over 1946," Mr. Harris said.

The average stay in hospital during the year was 11.98 days in 1947, compared with 12.41 in 1946.

INFLUENCES COSTS

"The shorter average stay has also influenced the rising costs of care of patients because active treatment is concentrated in fewer days," Mr. Harris said. "A convalescent patient who formerly remained in hospital needs less costly care and is now more promptly replaced by another acute case."

Discussing the queries received on the necessity to increase daily rates, Mr. Harris gave for one example the cost of food, stating that the average cost per meal was approximately three cents more this year than in the preceding year, representing an increased expense of more than $20,500 on food alone.

The reduction in expense of materials for repairs of buildings and equipment was occasioned by the fact that patient accommodation was so constantly filled there was little opportunity for the maintenance men to carry out decorative repairs, Mr. Harris said.

Jubilee Seeks More Student Nurses Annual Meeting Told

An increase in the number of students coming to the hospital for training would now, he welcomed, Dr. J. L. Murray Anderson, medical superintendent of Royal Jubilee Hospital, said in his report to the 58th annual meeting of the hospital, held in the Nurses' Home, Thursday night.

"The increase in hospitalization has placed a heavy load on the nursing service," he said. "There are now 175 nurses in the Training School."

"The various specialized departments of the hospital offer excellent opportunities for training girls wishing to enter the nursing profession."

BLOOD BANK

Referring to the Red Cross Blood Bank, which he said had been invaluable in providing blood for transfusing post-operative and seriously ill patients, Dr. Anderson paid tribute to the generosity of people in all walks of life in contributing to the bank.

Discussing accommodation, he said the children's ward was particularly crowded, with beds at a premium at all times. He added that a plan would soon be presented to the board which would offer a solution to the difficulties encountered in the children's ward.

"The pharmacy and the laboratory are overtaxed in their present locations, and a plan is being studied to provide for extension of these departments," he said.

High Food Costs Hospital Headache Director Reports

High cost of foods present a major headache to the dietetic department of the Royal Jubilee Hospital, just as it does the average Victoria housewife according to the report of Elizabeth M. Lawson, B.Sc., director, received at the 58th annual meeting of the hospital in the Nurses' Home, Thursday night.

"In 1947 the Wartime Prices and Trade Board dissolved and all foods were taken off the rationed list, also most price ceilings, with the result that prices have steadily risen, Miss Lawson said.

"There are more foods available now, but the increases in food costs present a serious problem, apart from the fact that noted nutritionists tell us that Canadians are eating far more now than in prewar days."

MINIMUM OF WASTE

"Menu planning, ordering of foods and waste is being checked as never before, and we are endeavoring to control portions served to the staff at the cafeteria in order to have a minimum of plate waste."

One thousand pounds of butter which cost $401 in 1948, cost $560 in 1947; 1,000 sacks of potatoes which cost $2,825 in 1946, cost $3,428 in 1947, and 1,000 pounds of bread which cost $55 in 1946, cost $85 in 1947.

Martha McBride, medical social worker, gave the report of the social service department and said while various homes had been established for the care of the aged, there was still a need for larger homes equipped to give some night care.

"Some of our most difficult cases are those who, because they have become an acute community problem, are admitted to hospital, and cannot be discharged until other arrangements are made," she said.

Lost For Words On Overcrowding Of Department

Lack of accommodation, in various departments at Royal Jubilee Hospital, has been described in many ways over the past few years, but the first man to admit that he has reached the end of his adjectives on the matter is J. E. Smith, pharmaceutical chemist.

He was giving the report of the department of pharmacy received at the 58th annual meeting of the hospital in the Nurses' Home, Thursday night.

"For 1945 I reported our facilities greatly overtaxed," he said. "In 1946 the situation was as critical. This year it is difficult to find words to emphasize our urgent need for early expansion of the department."

Substantial increases over the preceding year, both in volume of work and cost was noted by Mr. Smith in his report. He added that the ratio of increase between volume and cost gave a good picture of the current trend of intensified therapeutics.

British Commons To Examine E.R.P. Before Signing

LONDON (CP)—The European Recovery Plan is regarded as a life-saver by the United Kingdom, but sources here say no agreement with the United States will be signed until "we have had a good look at the conditions attached."

This means an examination by Parliament as well as by the financial experts who will negotiate with the E.R.P. administration. When House of Commons members Thursday demanded an opportunity to debate the agreement, Foreign Secretary Bevin said he hoped to have it in the House within a week of the July 3 signing deadline.

Political observers said Parliament's attitude reminded them of 1946 when the United States loan agreement was discussed and several members criticized conditions they feared would hamper Britain's freedom of action.

Comedians Bud Abbott and Lou Costello got a wooden Oscar from their 10,000 adopted kids at the Lou Costello Jr. Youth Foundation. But they appreciate it more than a gold one.

Hospital Act To Aid Jubilee, Mrs. Hodges Tells Meeting

Confidence that implementation of the Hospital Insurance Act would help the Royal Jubilee Hospital with regard to its financial difficulties, was expressed by Mrs. Nancy Hodges, M.L.A., in an address to the 58th annual meeting of the Royal Jubilee Hospital, held in the Nurses' Home, Thursday night.

Outlining some of the provisions of the act, Mrs. Hodges said the government hoped to make it so attractive that everyone would wish to be covered by the act.

MUST HAVE CO-OPERATION

"No matter how good a piece of legislation may be, however, it must have the co-operation of the public and that co-operation will be more necessary for the operation of this act than any other," Mrs. Hodges said.

She discussed the increased costs of hospital services stating as a result hospitals had found it impossible to pay their way. The sum of $550,000 allocated by the provincial government as an emergency grant last year to help hospitals out of an immediate difficulty, was considerable money to the government but "only a drop in the bucket to the hospitals," she said.

Hospital costs to the provincial government increased more than 100 per cent last year, Mrs. Hodges said.

"The inflation spiral has much jeopardized hospitals and they find themselves with the problem of trying to make ends meet," she added.

While pointing out that she was not criticizing hospitals for increasing rates recently as it was the only avenue open to them, at the same time, she felt the move would defeat its own purpose, since the higher the rates went, the less people could afford to pay their hospital fees.

"Many persons in the middle, marginal and low income brackets may almost be classed as medical indigents today, as they find themselves unable to pay or provide for illness," Mrs. Hodges said.

PEOPLE MUST PAY

In concluding her address she said that many people who clamor most for government help fail to realize that in the long run the people must pay for whatever aid the government gives.

"The government has no bottomless pit from which it can shovel out money," she said, stressing the need for continued volunteer and private donations for the hospital, regardless of what aid is forthcoming from the government.

Reeve R. A. B. Wootton of Oak Bay moved the vote of thanks to Mrs. Hodges.

Hospital Cannot Refuse Children, Says Doctor Urging New Ward

Royal Jubilee Hospital cannot refuse admission to children, or accept them, and then place them in beds in the corridors, because there is not sufficient room in the children's ward, Dr. J. L. Murray Anderson, medical superintendent, told nearly 150 attending the 58th annual meeting of the Royal Jubilee Hospital held in the Nurses' Home, Thursday night.

"The situation is absolutely urgent," Dr. Anderson told the crowded meeting in referring to the need for an immediate start on the conversion of the Strathcona wing of the hospital, into a children's ward.

START IMMEDIATELY

He said he would recommend to the new board of directors' meeting tonight, that plans for the conversion be started Monday morning with the $12,000 in hand and trust to the generosity of the public, municipalities and provincial government that as more money is needed to complete the structure, it will be forthcoming. President J. L. Hobbs, in his report said the $12,000 collected in a campaign was less than one-third the money required.

There is accommodation in the present children's ward for 28 beds, he said, adding that from January to May the average number of children in the ward was 25 to 26. There have been as high as 33 child patients at various times, he said.

He told of one instance when the beds of two children had to be placed in the corridor because there was no room in the children's ward. He urged that work on the proposed children's ward, which would accommodate 47 beds, be started immediately so as "not to have to turn babies away from the hospital next winter."

RELIEF FROM ACT

In his report, Dr. Anderson expressed the hope that implementation of the Hospital Insurance Act would relieve the tremendous financial strain which had hung over Jubilee, as well as other hospitals.

Mr. Hobbs, in his address paid tribute to the work of E. W. McMullen, honorary treasurer, at present confined to a hospital bed.

"He has been a tower of strength to the Royal Jubilee Hospital," said Mr. Hobbs.

Ald. Harold M. Diggon gave the report of Mr. McMullen. A total of 12 members of the board of directors for 1947 were re-elected, and six new directors appointed for the coming term.

Reappointed as representatives of the provincial government by order in council were E. W. McMullen, F. E. Winslow and R. A. B. Wootton. Ald. H. M. Diggon, W. P. D. Pemberton, H. P. Hodges and D. J. Proudfoot will serve an additional term for the City of Victoria. Ralph Bearisto will replace C. S. Henley as the fifth city member.

Councillors J. L. Hobbs of Saanich, P. A. Molr of Oak Bay and A. C. Wurtele of Esquimalt will represent the three municipalities.

Elected at the meeting as "subscribers" were Mrs. E. Sheppard, Dr. A. B. Nash, Miss Barbara Bullock Webster and R. V. Jenkin.

Dr. L. L. Ptak, Dr. W. E. M. Mitchell and Dr. R. Scott-Mon-

Overseas Soldiers Developed Healthy National Feeling

Finding themselves on a foreign shore in continual close contact with men from other parts of Canada, members of Canada's army who served overseas in World War 11 ceased to think locally and provincially and began to think nationally, Col. Charles P. Stacey, director of the historical section of the Department of National Defence, told Rotary members at a meeting Thursday.

"Men of the 1st Canadian division went overseas as local units," Col. Stacey said. "Going over on the boat, men of the Toronto unit wouldn't speak to men of the Montreal unit."

During the years spent training in England, however, such pettiness gave way and the men began to think of themselves as Canadians for the first time, the speaker said.

"In 1943 the fighting started, and under the strain of battle we made faster progress. Mutual respect and comradeship developed and we all got on much better."

FORGOT DIFFERENCES

"French-speaking soldiers and English-speaking soldiers forgot past differences and worked together as Canadians, Col. Stacey said.

"Some of the best and bravest men in our army were men from Quebec," he stated.

Returning to Canada with their new-found feeling of nationalism, many veterans were shocked to find their home towns were still living and thinking locally. Consequently, they have been working since their return to correct this attitude.

"They realize the whole is better than the part—that the nation is better than the province—and it would be a tragedy if this realization was lost," Col. Stacey concluded.

The speaker was introduced by John Gough and was thanked by Jack McKay.

Fashion Temple In Boston Ousts Museum's Birds, Beasts

BOSTON (AP)—Bonwit Teller says they have knocked another Boston legend into a cocked hat—by Bonwit Teller. They've done it, they say, in their newest fashion temple—a flossy $300,000 fixing of an 80-year-old museum where Bostonians once wandered beneath the skeleton of a whale and among birds and beasts that were stuffed and unstuffed. There—in genteel drawing rooms without counters and with salesgirls who are told they are hostesses—the shop claims they've proved that Boston women buy their hats. The old legend tells that when a Boston dowager was asked where she bought her hats, she answered: "My dear, we have our hats."

That story, says Mrs. Rosa Lynd De Hart, Bonwit Teller vice-president and Boston manager, "is the greatest misstatement of all time."

The hospital committee reported 232 veterans were visited and given cigarettes and candy. Fruit baskets were sent to sick members' homes. A donation of $50 was sent to the Flood Relief Fund. Mrs. C. Hemstreet resigned as co-convenor of the W.A. Zone Garden party, to be held July 8 at the home of the president, Mrs. J. Dunkeld, Cedar Hill Road. Mrs. J. Brien was appointed in her place. Screen Stars Lovely N.Y. Girls Brighter

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actor Wendell Corey, a brave man, has dared to compare Manhattan's show girls with Hollywood cuties.

"They're brighter on Broadway," said Corey, "but they're lovelier in Hollywood."

Corey is the boy that producer Hal Wallis drafted from the New York production "Dream Girl" to appear opposite Loretta Young in "The Accused" at Paramount. He's supposed to make a villainess of Miss Young in the picture.

"Every girl with or without talent heads for New York when the yen to see her name in lights outweighs her innate modesty," Corey expounded. "No one will ever be able to lick that small-town-girl-makes-good-in-big-city legend."

"That's why New York show girls are so ambitious. They've thrown away practically every thing they ever had to make a go of it in Gotham. They can't go home without soliciting ridicule."

After making certain that no talent scouts were listening, he added his opinion of Hollywood talent.

"They're gorgeous. But they don't have the drive exhibited by New York girls. Like Helen of Troy, their faces and figures are their fortune. They are photogenic, and they know all about cameras and microphones. In a way they are far more sophisticated than their eastern sisters."

"There's only one answer, and it's simple," he concluded. "Put brains, ambition and loveliness in one person and you have a star. The three add up to personality, and that's the commodity—sometimes erroneously referred to as sex appeal—which keeps show business in business."

Dorothy Dix

Dear Miss Dix: I have a florist shop and live very nicely on my own money, but I am very much in love with a man who has asked me to marry him although he makes a very small salary. Would you suggest that I marry him and keep on with my work? I always have sworn that I never would work on the outside after I married. My job has become monotonous to me and I would like to give it up. But do you think I would be satisfied to live on the little he makes?

JOAN H.

Answer: I certainly should advise you to stick to your florist shop if you marry your sweetheart. It is easy to accustom ourselves to luxuries, but hard to learn to do without them. You would find it very disillusioning to have to come down to shabbiness and doing without all the things that you enjoy.

As for your work being monotonous, so is all other work by which we earn a living. You won't find it any more thrilling to scrub pots and pans than it is to work in your florist shop, and there is a lot more money and less labor in one than the other.

Girls who marry poor men because they are tired of working are just plain dumb.

Officials Study Case Of Boy Who Shot, Killed Father

SEATTLE (AP)—A 12-year-old boy, who Prosecutor Lloyd Shorett said had admitted he shot and killed his policeman father, was in seclusion with his mother today while officials pondered his fate.

The slain officer was Virgil A. Benedict. His death June 4 was first described as accidental.

The boy, Richard, told his story Thursday at a conference attended by the mother, Shorett and attorney John J. Kennett.

The prosecutor said the boy, described as a near genius, could give no reason other than a remark made by his mother about arguments.

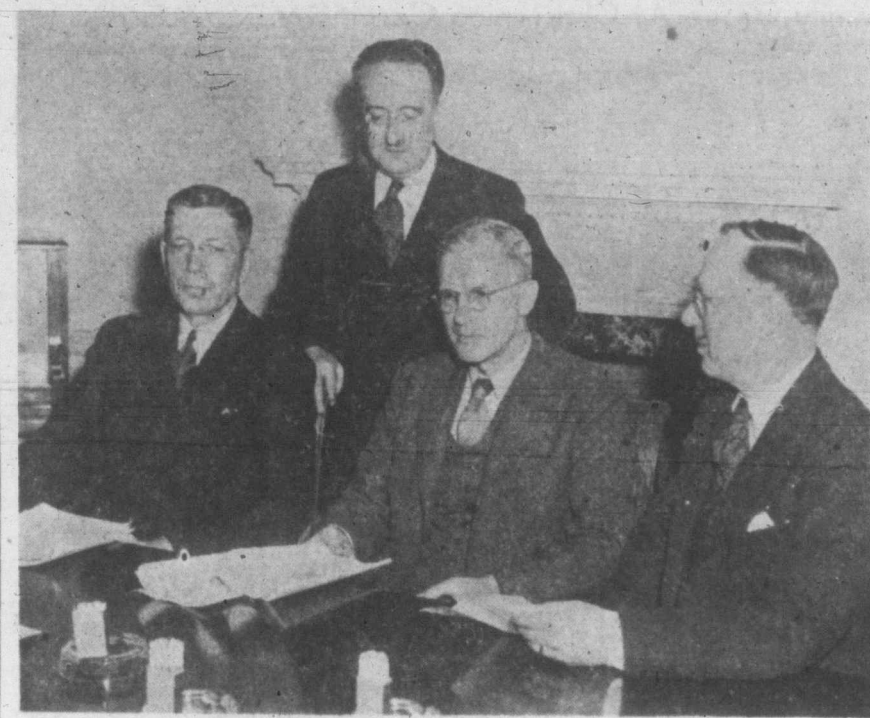

In his admission, taken on a wire recorder, the boy emphasized he had not intended to harm his father, Shorett said. He said Richard told him he remembered taking his father's service revolver from its holster and the flash of the discharge. He did not remember pointing the weapon.

Shorett and Juvenile Judge William G. Long said the boy would be taken into the jurisdiction of the juvenile court for psychiatric treatment. Whether he will be taken into actual custody has not been decided.

The boy's grade school principal, Paul Van Cruyningen, said he has "an I.Q. of 135, which is supposed to be where genius begins." He said he would be classed "in the upper 2 per cent of the population."

Prices Of Meals Up

CALGARY (CP)—Prices of restaurant meals in Calgary will be increased more than five cents immediately, Horace King, president of the Canadian Restaurant Association, announced. Mr. King, who also stated the association had wired federal authorities at Ottawa expressing concern over spiralling commodity prices, said increases being put into effect still would not allow restaurant owners a normal mark-up.

SCIENTISTS STUDY REPORTS—A group of Canada's leading art and scientific experts peruse papers submitted at annual meeting of the Royal Society of Canada held at the Empress Hotel Thursday. Left to right: Dr. F. J. Alcock, Ottawa; Dr. Seraphin Marion, Ottawa, honorary secretaries; W. P. Thompson, dean of the University of Saskatchewan, outgoing president; and Dr. J. A. Pearce, director of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory, newly-elected vice-president.

Young Voices Highlight Of Beethoven Recital

By FLORENCE LARINDE

The beautifully-blended voices of the Beethoven Choral Club, heard in the singing of the magnificent march and chorus from the Opera Tannhauser, by R. Wagner opened the annual concert presented by Prof. J. B. Hoffmann in aid of the Queen Alexandra Solarium, held in the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium last night.

Heard first on the evening's varied program was the young soprano of Miss Doreen Kobut singing "Bird Songs at Eventide," by Eric Coates; a tenor solo, "One Day When We Were Young," by Johann Strauss, sung by William Alexander, the "Carmen Waltz," by Lane Wilson, sung by the young mezzo soprano Miss Valdrada Speed. Miss Fay Robinson who rendered Franz Schubert's "Faith in Spring" and Miss Donna Verquin, who sang the melodious "Glennina" from Rudolf Friml's "The Firefly" were particularly noted for their pleasing stage appearance.

The ever popular "O Sole Mio," by E. di Capua, sung by Thomas Nickolthuk and "Elsa's Dream From the Opera 'Lohengrin,'" by R. Wagner, sung by Mrs. A. Fenthorpe, were heard next.

Miss Joyce Dandridge's rich voice was particularly well suited for the singing of W. A. Mozart's "Dove Sono" from "The Marriage of Figaro" and Mrs. C. A. Goring who sang "In the Garden of My Heart," by E. R. Ball and Mrs. Margaret Thayer's singing of the "Il Est Doux, Il Est Bona, from the opera 'Herodiade,' by Jules Massenet were among the highlights of the evening's program.

One of the most difficult arias ever composed, V. Bellini's "Casta Diva" from the opera Norma, was brilliantly interpreted by the young well-known coloratura soprano, Miss Kathleen Paulin.

Miss Evelyn McGonigle's full and vibrant contralto voice also held her audience in the singing of G. Verdi's "Don Fausto" from the opera Don Carlo. Miss Paulin and Miss McGonigle were heard again later in the program in the singing of two duets.

Mrs. Verna Moore, talented young soprano, led the chorus in the spirited "Rmany Life" from "The Fortune Teller," by Victor Herbert.

Highlighting the second portion of the program was Miss Betty Rainaldi's singing of "La Zingara" (Gipsy Maid) by G. Rossini. This young contralto, who performed with complete confidence and a depth of understanding for her music, was heard again with Miss Fay Robinson in J. Offenbach's debut the "Barcarolle" from "Tales of Hoffman."

Rounding out the evening's recital Miss Rita Price sang the very beautiful "Pace, Pace" from "La Forza Del Destino," by G. Verdi, and the quartette, which included Mrs. L. McDonald, Miss Iris Roberts, Mr. G. F. Farmer and Mrs. E. J. Mickelson, sang "Have You Forgotten" adapted to the celebrated Andantino by Lemare.

Professor Hoffman, in the absence of the pianist, accompanied his students at the piano.

The entire proceeds will be turned over to the Solarium for crippled children.

British M.P. Urges New Enlarged Policy On Emigration

LONDON (CP)—George Wadsworth, 46, Liberal member of Parliament for Buckrose and a Yorkshire company director, is leading a House of Commons drive to obtain a specific government policy on emigration.

His enthusiasm for emigration—"redistribution of population," he calls it—was given impetus by a visit to Canada last fall, "when I went right across the Dominion and ended with a visit to an outlying lumber camp on Vancouver Island."

He talked emigration with Prime Minister King, Trade Minister Howe and other Dominion and provincial ministers.

For months he has worked for the establishment of an all-party parliamentary committee to discuss the practicability of large-scale emigration and make suggestions to the government. He said he expected it would soon be formed, with Labor and Conservative members as well as Liberals.

Wadsworth said he wanted:

1. A clear, specific policy of emigration laid down by the Labor government.

2. Responsibility for emigration matters given to a junior minister who would keep the government informed of emigration problems and requirements.

3. Establishment of a government department where persons interested could obtain information on every question associated with emigration.

"There should be some larger attempt to weld together the interests of the government and of those who desire to go overseas or who study the transfer of industry," said Wadsworth.

"Any such organization should work in full liaison with Dominion governments. This question of emigration is a high-level matter."

The Elks have completed the building of their cottage at Sunshine Camp, Sooke. All work was done by members, evenings and week-ends. The cottage was occupied by a party of ladies just as the last of the Elks workers quit on Tuesday evening.

Seek Restoration Of Price Controls

The Victoria branch of the Housewives' Consumer Association has voiced disapproval of the proposed increase in transportation rates and the discontinuance of the dollar weekly pass. "We feel the public when they voted on the plebiscite granting the B.C.E.R. the 20-year franchise, we're of the opinion that the present fare structure would be maintained and were unaware of the clause permitting the companies concerned to apply for an increase in fares," the resolution says.

The increased price of beef, together with the two-cent increase in the price of milk, was criticized and members decided to redouble efforts to have subsidies and price controls restored by the government as the only solution to the rising cost of living.

Annuities Act Changes Debated

OTTAWA (CP)—The government Thursday moved second reading of a bill to amend the annuities Act, but adjourned the debate. Opposition to its provisions developed on all sides of the House. This is the measure which would give statutory authority to the cut in annuity interest rates announced in April.

Lowering of the interest rate was criticized by both Progressive Conservative and C.C.F. members.

The opposition said the government's move was not justified at this time and they stated that it would discourage investments in annuities.

The debate, arising on second reading of the bill was adjourned by Trade Minister Howe. It was learned he adjourned the discussion to permit completion of the study of his departmental estimates. Fewer than a half dozen remained to be passed.

Debate on the annuities measure was initiated by P. E. Cote, parliamentary assistant to Labor Minister Mitchell. He said increased purchases of government annuities necessitated revision of annuity legislation.

Under the new legislation a person will be able to change his annuity contract to meet changing conditions. It will increase from $1,200 to $1,500 the maximum annuity which a person may take in any one year. It will also make provision for the assigning of beneficiaries in the annuity contracts.

Federal Labor Code Approved After Stormy Debate On Checkoff

OTTAWA (CP)—The federal labor code won approval in the Commons Thursday after a rough legislative passage.

Several changes were written into the act during brisk debate and several others, most of them sought by the C.C.F. group, were turned aside.

The code, which will apply only to industries such as the railroads which come under federal jurisdiction, now goes to the Senate.

In a series of hotly-contested votes, the House did these things:

1. Killed a provision, inserted when the bill was before the house industrial relations committee, which would have made the unions dues checkoff mandatory.

2. Narrowed the definition of "confidential" employees exempted from the code's collective bargaining provisions. The exemption applies only to employees engaged in work in labor relations.

3. Rejected a C.C.F. amendment which would have put professional engineers under the code.

4. Refused to exclude dietitians from the code. This was sought by H. W. Winkler, Lib., Lisgar, Man.

5. Rejected a C.C.F. attempt to make the proposed Canada Labor Relations Board responsible for launching prosecutions for violations. This is left up to the unions and employers concerned.

6. Rejected a C.C.F. motion to bar lawyers from labor board hearings except where all parties consent.

7. Approved a stipulation protecting the pension rights of persons engaging in legal strikes after the code becomes law.

Debate on the checkoff produced the warmest controversy of the day.

INSISTED BY COMMITTEE

As the bill was drafted by the labor department, it had no checkoff clause. The Commons industrial relations committee inserted a section that would have compelled employers to collect unions dues, when asked by a certified union, for those workers who signified they wanted it done. This is the voluntary revocable checkoff.

The government opposed this, but it was Walter Little, Lib., Temiskaming, Ont., who moved to strike it out of the code. The result was a "free vote" with party lines crossed by members of all groups except the C.C.F., which voted in a body to retain the checkoff provision.

In the 71 to 35 vote, those against the checkoff clause included the bulk of the Liberals, most of the Progressive Conservatives and one Social Credit member—Norman Jaques, Wetaskiwin, Alta.

BRACKEN FOR CHECKOFF
Among those favoring it with the C.C.F. and most of the Social Crediters were David Croll, Lib., Toronto Spadina, former Ontario labor minister; James Sinclair, Lib., Vancouver North; William Benedickson, Lib., Kenora-Rainy River, Ont.; J. S. Sinnott, Lib., Springfield, Man.; J. L. Gibson, Ind., Comox-Alberni; John Bracken, Progressive Conservative leader, and A. L. Smith, P.C., Calgary West.

Labor Minister Mitchell objected to the checkoff clause on the ground that it was a matter for negotiations between unions and management.

Angus MacInnis, C.C.F., Vancouver East, recalled that Mr. Justice Ivan Rand in settling a Ford Motor Co. strike a few years ago had recommended that all employees pay union dues whether they belonged to the union or not.

One other piece of legislation was adopted as the drive for prorogation next week was intensified. It was a bill repealing Ontario's old-style Lord's Day Act.

61 Japanese Lose Lives In Mine Blast

TOKYO (AP)—Sixty-one Japanese miners were killed or missing in a northern Kyushu coal mine explosion today, the newspaper Asahi reported.

The Asahi said 55 bodies had been recovered. Eight miners survived the gas explosion in the Mitsubishi coal mine at Unimachi, several miles east of Fukuoka. The Kyodo news agency reported the blast occurred at a depth of 2,000 metres (6,562 feet).

Alex Reid, Canadian general manager American Radio Relay League, is in Victoria today. Mr. Reid has long held this senior Canadian appointment and is well known to all Canadian amateurs for work he has done on their behalf at Ottawa. A special meeting of the Victoria Short Wave Club, 2500 Foul Bay Road, will be held this evening at 8 to give local amateurs an opportunity to meet Mr. Reid.

Eastern Europe Scene Of Russian Peace Offensive

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Russian peace offensive appears to be breaking out all over eastern Europe.

American officials are still skeptical that the Russians and their allied Communist governments intend to make any major concessions on outstanding problems, but there is deep interest here in a whole series of current developments.

One of these—hitherto undisclosed—is an offer by Yugoslavia to settle claims by the United States against the Yugoslav government. Others include:

1. Bulgaria's willingness to enter negotiations with the American-supported Greek government on ways to reopen normal diplomatic relations. These talks are going on in Washington now between the Greek ambassador and the Bulgarian minister.
2. Russia's acceptance of a U.S. proposal for a 10-country conference looking to free navigation of the Danube. A place for the conference, scheduled for July 30, remains to be selected somewhere in eastern Europe.
3. Big cuts made by the Russian government in reparations claims against Finland, Romania and Hungary.

One theory here held by some highly-placed diplomats is that the Russians and their Communist associates want to build the best possible record of pro-peace activity ahead of the fall meeting of the United Nations' General Assembly in Paris.

Another parallel idea is that they are trying to regain some of their lost prestige by claiming leadership toward world peace while seeking to identify the United States and co-operating western governments as "warmongering" countries.

Double Victory Gives A's Third Place

Owens Takes Opener; Blankenship Gets Eighth Win Of Season In Finale

Concluding their most successful home stand of the year, or for that matter of the past three years, Victoria Athletics last night swept both ends of a twin bill from the Wenatchee Chiefs to notch their fourth straight victory and their eighth in the last 10 starts.

Fireballer Del Owens, chalking up his second consecutive win, and Joe Blankenship, one of the old guard, whipping Lou McCollum in the regulation nightcap, 5 to 1, were the boys who again gave the A's a couple of first-class mound performances.

As a result of this tremendous surge by the hustling Athletics that has during the past two weeks seen them rise from a point just above the W.I.L. cellar to third place and only three and a half games in back of the second-place Bremerton Bluejackets, the double triumph marks the first time this season that the club has gone above the .500 mark in the standings.

Although touched for nine hits in the abbreviated opener, Owens was tough in the clutch and only one of the Wenatchee hits figured in the scoring. The Chiefs counted all of their runs in the third inning. Palica started it off with a single and moved up on pitcher Glen Lierman's sacrifice. Owens momentarily lost control and walked McCollums and McNulty to fill the bases.

D. L. OWENS won first game

UNEARNED RUNS

Neil Bryant then bounced a slow roller to Jensen, who hit Palica in the clutch and the ball rolled away from Recca and McCollums scampers across for the second run, McNulty going to third. Gardner skied out and McNulty scored after the catch. All three runs were unearned.

The A's came storming back in their half of the inning to smash five hits off Lierman, which were good for four runs and the ball game. Roy Gilmore lined one out of the park for the first tally. Owens singled, Balassi beat out a sacrifice attempt and Buccola filled the sacks with another bunt single. Jack Palmer then unfurled one of his line drive specials off the sign above the scoreboard to score two runs and win himself $50. Babe Jensen fired out to left field scoring Buccola with the winning marker.

On the defensive side of the picture the club again sparkled. Palmer made nine putouts at second base and assisted on two double plays both started by Lou Kubiak that halted threatening Wenatchee uprisings. Wilson in centre field was roaming far and wide and came up with a total of six putouts.

The second victory was a personal triumph for Joe Blankenship. Joe, who would rather win a starting assignment than a relief job lived up to his rating as the club's No. 1 moundman as he recorded his eighth win of the year.

Only in trouble once and that being in the first inning when Wenatchee picked up three hits to load the bases, Blankenship got out of that jam and then hurled a shutout ball until the ninth. Doubles by Bill Wilson and Gene Gaviglio robbed him of the goose egg in the ninth.

JOE BLANKENSHIP completed double

The middle portion of the A's batting order took care of the run making for the A's and Blankenship himself got into the act by clouting a two-run double in the sixth.

TAKE EARLY LEAD

Singles by Recca and Jensen, an error by Bill Wilson on Recca's hit and a two-base hit by Kubiak scored the first two runs in the second off McCollum. The heady

Wenatchee righthander blanked the A's until the sixth when they picked up three more hits including Blankenship's double for three runs.

Archie Wilson singled and Recca was safe at first on Neumann's boot at first. Jensen singled home Wilson and Blankenship scored Recca and Jensen.

The A's left by plane today for Spokane where they play a four-game series with the Indians, returning home next week for a three-game set with Yakima and a four-game series with Salem.

Meanwhile, Tacoma keeps right on winning. George Nicholas was the star last night when he turned in a two-hit relief performance as the Tigers squeaked Salem 6 to 4.

John Conant of Bremerton tossed a four-hitter at Yakima as Bremerton won 3 to 1.

Vancouver Caps again found the going rough at Spokane, the Indians taking a doubleheader 6 to 0 and 11 to 7.

Surprising Voiselle Pitches Double Win

The magic touch of Billy Southworth is working wonders on still another ball player, Pitcher Bill Voiselle. The once disgruntled curve baller of New York Giants has turned into Boston Braves' biggest winner under the patient guidance of Boston's Billy.

Voiselle broke in with the Giants in 1944 by winning 21 games. The next June he was fined $500 by Manager Mel Ott for grooving a pitch to Johnny Hopp, then with St. Louis Cardinals.

"That time, which I felt was unjustified, seemed to take everything out of me," Voiselle said. He finished 1945 with a 14-14 record, then slipped to 9-15 in 1946.

Last year he'd won only once while losing four when the Giants swapped him and cash for pitcher Mort Cooper. He righted himself almost at once and won eight while losing seven for the Braves. This season he's won seven and lost three.

Two of those victories came yesterday against Chicago Cubs. Voiselle relieved Warren Spahn in the second inning of the first game of a twin bill. The Braves trailed 5 to 0, but went on to win, 7 to 6. Then in the nightcap he was called upon in the ninth with the score tied, 7 to 7. Boston won in the last half with a run.

UNDISPUTED LEADERS The pair of triumphs gave Boston undisputed possession of first place in the National League, a half-game ahead of Pittsburgh.

The Pirates took the measure of New York Giants, 9 to 8, despite four N.Y. home runs. They came from behind on a homer by Ed Stevens with two aboard in the seventh. Giants homers were by Johnny Mize, Bill Rigney, Willard Marshall and Bobby Thomson.

Stan Musial feasted on Philadelphia pitching as St. Louis Cardinals whipped the Phillies, 4 to 1. Musial had a triple and two singles to boost his season's average to .398.

Musial's triple brought home three runs against Curt Simmons and he scored a moment later on Whitey Kurovski's single. Harry Brecheen, lifted in the eighth for a pinch hitter, was the winner.

Cincinnati beat Brooklyn, 5 to 3, in the other National League game. Cleveland's front-running Indians suffered their fourth straight loss, this time to Boston, 8 to 6. The Indians stayed in the game until the sixth when Dom DiMaggio put the Red Sox ahead to stay with a home run. Ken Keltner hit his 16th home run for Cleveland.

Philadelphia Athletics advanced to within two games of the Indians by defeating Detroit, 5 to 2. Carl Scheib, who gave up six hits, was the winner with Dizzy Trout being charged with the loss.

ADDITION of another infielder to the line-up of the Victoria Athletics presents Manager Ted Norbert with a problem. Shortstop Russ Waiseth comes to the club highly recommended by Lee MacPhail, general manager of Kansas City, and will get his chance. It's just a question of who will be given a rest. Of course, with third baseman Babe Jensen nursing an injured back that has been slow to respond to treatment under the handicap of playing every night, the opportunity is presented to give Jensen a chance to get back into shape. Such a move would likely see Lou Kubiak move over from the short patch to relieve Jensen and Waiseth take over the shortstop position.

ON the other hand it is pretty tough to move Kubiak at the present time as he has been playing heads up ball. Since he was brought into the infield from left field the Athletics have shown marked improvement defensively. Kubiak hounds a ground ball and packs a good throwing arm. And he is working well with second sacker Jack Palmer as a double play combination. And there's another point. One of the best-recognized don'ts in baseball is never break up a winning combination. At the time of writing the Athletics had steadily moved up from seventh place to a tie for fourth. So it looks like Norbert has another tough decision to make. That's just one of the many headaches of being a baseball manager.

TO a lot of fans a manager's job is just a case of showing up at the park every night in time to start the boys off on batting practice, hit to the infield for the pre-game workout and then handle the club during the actual game. If those were a manager's only duties the job would be a cinch. Having traveled with the Athletics during which time I spent a lot of time in the company of Norbert I have some idea of the problems a pilot meets up with.

IN THE first place a manager has to do his best to build up a good club spirit. Of course this rests in the main with the actual players but a manager has to be around to act as peacemaker for the little tiffs that are bound to show up when around 20 athletes are so closely associated with each other day in and day out for approximately five months. If a player is in a batting slump or a pitcher runs into a losing streak, Norbert must try to straighten them out and at the same time do his utmost to keep up their morale. Any number of players get down on themselves and it often puts a manager at his wits end to keep them in their fighting. And last, but not least, a manager quite often has to be a father confessor when one of his players runs into trouble completely divorced from baseball. All in all a baseball manager earns his monthly cheque.

Sensational Locke 'One Of The Boys'

CHICAGO (AP)—Bobby Locke has found a sense of humor to go with his golf game and is now just "one of the boys."

A year ago, when the soft-spoken Locke came to the United States from South Africa, he was reported to have balked at granting interviews unless he got paid for talking. That sort of started him out on the wrong foot.

Lean Lloyd Mangrum was watching Locke practice putting before the start of the $15,000 Chicago Victory National tournament yesterday.

"I've never seen a guy like you," Mangrum chided. "You can look like you're shooting a 79, then score a 68. What a scamp!"

Locke smiled. "You should talk," he replied. "You are well over the lot most of the time. Talk about scrambling—phooey." Bobby, who has pocketed $13,218 to become the fourth biggest money winner of the season, took only 25 putts during the opening 18 holes—including nine one-putts—greens—for a six-under-par 65. Mangrum, pre-tournament favorite, struggled for a 74.

DICK METZ SECOND

Two strokes behind Locke as the 72-hole medal play tournament entered the second round today was Dick Metz of Arkansas City, Kas., with 67. Johnny Revolta and Jim Turnesa were next with 69s.

Locke's 34 on the front nine and blazing five-under-par 31 on the back side was the best ever recorded on the course, one of the oldest in the Chicago district. Par is a respected 36-36-71 over the 6,587-yard layout. Old-timers still talk of the 72-hole, 290 score Walter Hagen posted to win the 1914 United States open, one of the last major meets held at Midlothian.

The course record of 66 by Harry Hampton of Chicago had stood for 16 years.

Feller's Failure To Win Puzzles Himself, Coaches

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Indians will "sink or swim with Feller," said manager Lou Boudreau today.

And unfortunately, he continued, "if Bob can't win, we're finished as far as the pennant race is concerned."

Although currently leading the American League, the surprising Tribe has been weak on pitching and had counted heavily on Feller. So far, however, the high-salaried hurler has won only five and lost seven games.

His last triumph was May 19. He dropped his fifth straight game, Wednesday.

But "we'll sink or swim with Feller," Boudreau said. He'll start Sunday against Philadelphia and, barring bad weather or injury, he'll start a fourth day thereafter. He's our ace and we're going all the way to win with him.

STILL HAS STUFF

Feller appeared a little puzzled after his latest setback. "My control hasn't been just what I'd like, but I seemed to have my stuff," he said. "I just couldn't seem to get them out."

Herold (Muddy) Ruel, the Indians' veteran coach, known for his ability to get the most out of pitchers, was asked bluntly if Feller "was washed up."

"No, of course not," he answered.

"Then what's the matter with him?"

"I'm trying constantly to find the answer to that," Ruel replied.

"There are a half dozen possibilities . . ."

"Almost invariably, the catchers report the opposition's sliders which didn't break, or which didn't break far enough. It seems to me that Bob is delivering in a flatter plane—more sidearm—and I wondered if he might have some soreness which he isn't telling us about."

"But I discounted that theory when I watched his fingers. He's letting them fly with the pitch. No man can do that if his arm is sore."

Kramer Pressed To Five Sets By Fighting Van Horn

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—Jack Kramer of Los Angeles, the favorite, was forced to 73 games by an old rival, Welby Van Horn, Thursday in a quarterfinal match of the United States professional tennis championships.

Kramer, the world's leading amateur a year ago, finally prevailed, 3-6, 16-14, 4-6, 8-6, 6-4.

The second-seeded performer joined the other top-ranked favorites in the round of four as defending champion Bobby Riggs and Don Budge also triumphed. Frank Kovacs, No. 4, had moved forward the day before.

Riggs conquered Elwood Cooke of New York, 6-4, 4-6, 6-3, 6-0. Budge expelled Dinny Pails of Australia, the No. 1 seeded entry in the foreign list, 4-6, 6-2, 6-3, 6-2.

Central Junior High Athletes Receive Sports Awards

Because of inclement weather the usual outdoor ceremony which marks the annual Sports Award Day at Central Junior High School was held in the school auditorium yesterday.

Archie McKinnon, Y.M.C.A. physical director, presented cups to winning teams and gave individual crests to members of the teams. A. T. Hunkin, school principal introduced McKinnon and Miss Ferguson and J. Four-acre named and introduced the award winners.

Trophies were presented for house and league championships in boys' football, basketball and softball and for girls' basketball. House 2 made a clean sweep of this year's awards winning nine out of a possible 12 cups. All grade nine classes and members of the winning teams from grades 7 and 8 were present at the ceremony.

Six California Fighters Earn Olympic Trials

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Six California fighters and one each from Utah and Hawaii will compete for places on the United States Olympic team in the trials at Boston June 28 and 29.

The eight were crowned champs of the two-night far western regional tournament here last night before a crowd of several thousand at civic auditorium.

Blond Jay Lambert, 22-year-old University of Utah medical student from West Jordan, Utah, led the parade. He scored a three round upset decision in the heavy-weight division over Clarence Henry of Los Angeles.

Henry, 21-year-old upholsterer, was the favorite, having won the recent Chicago Golden Gloves title.

National A.A.U. titleholder, lightweight Johnny Gonsalves, Oakland, Calif., scored a three-round decision over an 18-year-old high school boy, Gene Fuller of West Jordan, Utah.

Other champions:
Flyweight—Chester Yasui, 19, University of Hawaii.
Bantamweight—James Mitchell, 20, Richmond, Calif.
Featherweight—Joe Lopes, 19, Sacramento, Calif.
Welterweight—Maurice Harper, 19, Oakland.
Middleweight—Frank Daniels, 20, Bakersfield, Calif.

The team will leave June 22 by plane, arriving in Boston the following day to begin workouts for the Olympic trials.

Golf Cup Remains Locked In Case

MONTREAL (CP)—The (Seagram) Gold Cup, carried home to South Africa last year by Bobby Locke as winner of the Canadian Open golf championship, is back in Canada but the keys to open the packing case have strayed.

The keys Bobby took along were shipped back separated by his club in South Africa but so far haven't arrived in Montreal.

The only other known set is traveling about Europe with a man who left Canada last summer bound for South Africa but had his plans changed and wound up in Europe instead.

Meanwhile, customs officers can't release the packing case because they can't look inside it. The donors, confident one set of the keys will show up before the Open is held in Vancouver in September, refuse to consider sawing off the lock.

Star Negro Back Joins Alouettes

MONTREAL (CP)—Montreal Alouettes of the Big Four Football League announced today that Bernie Jefferson, fleet negro halfback on Northwestern University, will report to Alouettes at the start of the training sessions in August.

Jefferson is a native of Grand Rapids, Mich. He played high school football and later starred at halfback for three years at Northwestern, in Evanston, Ill.

Sparring Partner Picks Walcott In 8th

GRENOLOCH, N.J. (AP)—There is a growing suspicion in this converted amusement park where Joe Walcott trains that heavyweight champ Joe Louis is going to be in for the surprise of his life Wednesday night in the Yankee Stadium.

"This training that's going on here don't mean a thing," warned Curtis Sheppard, the Baltimore hatchet man who twice fought Walcott and now spars with Jersey Joe.

"He may come in there with something entirely different," he said yesterday after working hours. "You saw him working with his left hook. He can hit you with both hands."

"I pick Walcott to stop Louis in eight rounds," he added.

Lords Approve Use Of Birch In Floggings

LONDON (CP)—The House of Lords heard a description of the sombre ritual of flogging in a prison and approved a continuation of a grim punishment for grim crimes.

But they wanted no more of the cruel cat o' nine tails, which might mark a man for life. They would keep the birch to give—as Lord Goddard, Lord Chief Justice of England, described it—the man or youth found guilty of violent crime, "a jolly good hiding."

The peers voted 29 to 17 for a continuation of flogging with the birch, and thus rejected a Commons decision to eliminate this form of punishment.

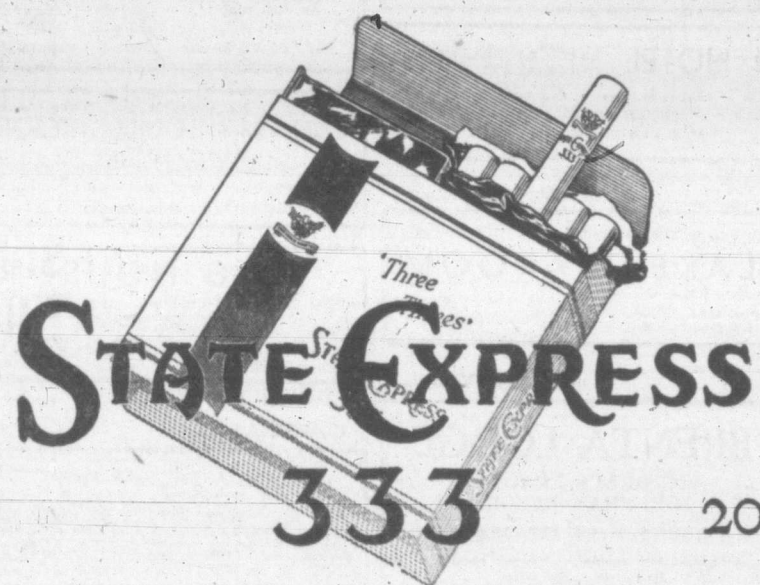

Lord du Parc, a judge who opposed the use of both "cat" and birch, said a committee which had studied the matter agreed that flogging with the birch is almost as bad as flogging with the instrument more commonly condemned.

From his own experience, Lord du Parc recalled the one case where he had ordered flogging—for a man guilty of robbery with violence. Later he heard the man had again been arrested for a crime and the police had testified that since he had been flogged in prison he had "become a more desperate character."

But Lord Goddard, who also had experience with criminals, said men guilty of "filthy and brutal offences" were exposed to ridicule by their associates after being birched.

The DOCTOR Says:

HUMAN 'CARRIERS' TRANSMIT AMEBIC DYSENTERY INFECTION

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

Nearly one out of every 10 persons is believed to harbor a tiny animal parasite called endamoeba histolytica. This parasite is the cause of amebic dysentery, but not all of those infected have active symptoms. In some, the amebas do not seem to cause any harm. Others may have only vague symptoms in the stomach and intestines or occasional diarrhea.

Nevertheless, those people who are not being seriously harmed by the amebas present in their intestines are what are called "carriers" — they can pass the parasites on to other people. This is especially true if they have anything to do with handling food.

DEVELOPS SUDDENLY

In many patients, the disease develops suddenly with pain and tenderness over the abdomen and frequent, and often bloody, bowel movements. The majority of patients recover after a stormy and severe illness. A few victims die, and others pass over into a chronic stage, or a stage in which symptoms are absent though the parasites may be still present.

Whenever a sudden illness of this develops, amebic infection must be considered as one of the possible causes. The definite diagnosis can be made only by finding the ameba in the feces, with the aid of a microscope.

The infection can be carried by food, water or flies. It is never possible to tell in advance whether an infected person will develop serious symptoms, mild symptoms or none at all.

Treatment, of course, is likely to be more effective if it is begun early. Prevention is particularly important. Great care should be taken to see that food and water are pure, and that carriers of the ameba are discovered.

Question: Why does a woman have a long labor when the membranes have been ruptured?

Answer: When labor begins, the membrane helps to dilate the passages. If the membrane ruptures before the beginning of labor, the widening of the passages is carried out by parts of the infant, usually the head. This is a slower and more painful process than when the membranes do most of the work.

Jerome Bella, Lake Cowichan, was found guilty of dangerous driving at Blanshard and Courtney Streets on May 20, was fined $40 and had his driver's license suspended for one month by Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court Thursday. His car was in collision with a taxi driven by Stanley D. Atkins, the impact throwing the cab over on its roof. A similar charge against Atkins was dismissed by the magistrate.

British Seaman Injured In City, Hopes For Recovery

Seaman James Stone, who broke his back in a fall from the British freighter Sampey at Ogden Point last November, and now back in England, is showing slight improvement and hopes for ultimate recovery, according to information received here by a friend, Mrs. B. Impey, 1748 Davis Street.

Stone, after months of hospitalization here, made a three-day trip home by air. He was reunited with his wife and four children in an ambulance taking him from London to Middlesbrough.

According to an English newspaper's account of Stone's return the English seaman found the change from the new world to the old was so quick he could hardly realize it. "One morning I was getting three eggs for breakfast and the next morning none at all."

The seaman, who was taken to an English hospital following his visit with his family, was full of praise for the kindness of the hospital staff here.

Girl In Accident Still Unconscious

"There is a little improvement today," Dr. Russell B. Robertson reported on the condition of his 12-year-old patient, Kathleen Wilson, 1322 Ivy Street, who was still unconscious as a result of injuries suffered in an accident at 8:30 Tuesday morning.

The bicycle she was riding was in collision with a car at the intersection of Kings and Cedar Hill Roads. Dr. A. N. Reid is working with Dr. Robertson on the case. Kathleen is suffering from concussion.

World On Brink Of Vast, New Discoveries, Scientists Say

A new world is in the making—a world which will have a revolutionary effect on man.

This was the opinion of Fellows of the Royal Society of Canada, who began today returning to their respective homes across Canada after attending the society's annual meeting in Victoria.

The Fellows, embracing some of Canada's top-notch scientists, voiced the opinion that the world was on the brink of vast new fields of scientific discovery beyond the grasp of the average man. Some of these discoveries would be released to the world within two or three years' time.

An indication of what was to come was given by Dr. W. P. Thompson, dean of the University of Saskatchewan. The quiet, unassuming biologist disclosed that a vast new variety of plants can now be produced by artificial mutations.

Plants which normally could only survive in southern climes could now be grown in northern spheres, he said.

Could oranges, grapefruit and bananas be grown in Canada? he was asked. He believed it was possible. However, he explained,

"If we want to expand our export trade," he said, "we will have to do the same."

Plasterers Wanted For Sadler Home

A good turnout of plasterers for work on the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Sadler on Beaver Lake's shores, is urged for this week-end by W. P. Paine, chairman of the building committee of the Sadler Rehabilitation Fund.

This is the home being constructed from public contributions after fire had destroyed the combination home and concession of the Sadlers late last year and took the lives of two of their children.

"If we can secure enough volunteers to do plastering tomorrow and Sunday it will be possible to complete the work so Mr. Sadler will be able to use the store for business this summer," said Mr. Paine.

Says Airpark Would Attract People Like Flies To Honey-Pot

The trial to restrain the city of Victoria and the Memorial Air Park Association from building an airpark at Gordon Head continued today before Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane in Supreme Court.

The court began hearing today the evidence of F. Aldous, B.C. land surveyor and civil engineer, who testified with regard to the plans of the proposed airpark.

John G. McIntosh, counsel for Dr. I. C. C. Chapmanoff, plaintiff in the action, announced in court he intended to make a motion against the building of the airpark on the grounds of nuisance. He said the motion would be made after all witnesses for the plaintiff had been heard.

Grounds for the motion, he said, were that the airpark would attract people to the site as a honey-pot attracts flies.

Universities Plan To Exchange Professors

MONTREAL (CP)—Dr. Robert Newton, president of the University of Alberta, said today an exchange of university professors and lecturers within the Commonwealth will be arranged at the Empire Universities Congress in England next month.

Interview aboard the Ascania just before the ship sailed, Dr. Newton said the principal purpose of the exchange would be to give "a stimulating change of environment" to professors and other university teachers.

The congress will be held in Bristol for one week beginning July 12 and for one week in Oxford beginning July 19. This year's congress, because of the war, is the first since 1937.

Dr. Newton said Canadian professors would go not only to Britain but to Australia, New Zealand and South Africa. Similarly, professors from those dominions would go to each of the others.

University staffs in Canada are limited at present, Dr. Newton said. Thus, when special courses are required professors specialized in those fields could be brought from abroad. Canada could reciprocate by sending her specialists to other parts of the Empire.

'Not British Justice'

Complains Man in Court

A one week's remand was given Frederick George Smith, Calumet Avenue, in Saanich police court Thursday to tear down a structure he had apparently put up in his yard as a pigeon roost without first obtaining a building permit.

John S. Taylor, municipal building inspector, said the by-law called for a permit for any kind of construction work. No paper had been issued for this building.

Accused appeared to be unaware that he had contravened the by-law. He said the S.P.C.A. had ordered him to erect it for his pigeons.

Earlier this year three buildings on his property had been torn down because they had been erected without permits. In the box Mr. Smith said that such regulations were a crime and a shame to enforce on an old man.

"It isn't British justice," he remarked.

Entering a plea of guilty to dangerous driving recently on Kings Road, John Fawcett was fined $40 and his license was suspended for one month by Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court Thursday. The car he was driving was in collision with another.

is standing at 320 Chestnut Street in the heart of the modern metropolis. Many other relics of the time when Philadelphia was the cockpit of the American Revolution still are neatly cared for and annually draw thousands of tourists. The Betsy Ross House, on Arch Street, and famed Independence Hall, at 6th and Chestnut, are among them.

My Girl Tisa' On Dominion Bill
Great interest surrounds the opening of Warner Bros. new United States Pictures Production, "My Girl Tisa," today at the Dominion Theatre, because of the film debut of Sam Wanamaker, bright Broadway stage luminary. Wanamaker, who attracted rave notices for his stage appearance with Ingrid Bergman in "Joan of Lorraine," has the leading role here opposite new star Lilli Palmer, a recent arrival from England.

points of historical interest. Philadelphia has been the scene of many momentous gatherings and celebrations. This year it will entertain all three leading political parties. After the G.O.P., the Democratic National convention will open July 12 and Henry Wallace's "New Party" is scheduled to meet July 23-25. Television network facilities are an added attraction this year.

Settlements on the Delaware date from earliest colonial times. William Penn obtained a grant from King Charles II, and in 1681 he took possession of Dutch and Swedish settlements already on the land. It was Penn who laid out the present checkerboard of streets and named it Philadelphia.

The Quakers and Benjamin Franklin left their imprint on a thriving colonial capital which from its beginnings has flourished as a centre of industry, journalism, art and politics.

Where To Go Tonight
(As Advertised)
ATLAS—"Drums Along the Mohawk," starring Henry Fonda.
CAPITOL—"Scudda Hoo, Scudda Hay," starring June Haver and Lon McCallister.
DOMINION—"My Girl Tisa," starring Sam Wanamaker.
OAK BAY—Ted Donaldson in "Red Stallion."
ODEON—Dick Powell and Signe Hasso in "To the Ends of the Earth."
PLAZA—"I'll Be Your Sweetheart," starring Margaret Lockwood.
RIO—"Way to the Stars," starring Michael Redgrave.
ROYAL—Robert Young and Maureen O'Hara in "Sitting Pretty."
YORK INTERNATIONAL—Brian Donlevy and Gail Russell in "Our Hearts Were Growing Up."

ROYAL THEATRE
Moviegoers will have to look twice to recognize Maureen O'Hara and Clifton Webb as their familiar selves in "Sitting Pretty," the new Twentieth Century-Fox comedy hit now at the Royal Theatre. With Robert Young, both are doing their first all-out comedy roles in the laugh-packed script written by F. Hugh Herbert, and they look only at differently, they look differently.

Actor Stewart Plans Vacation

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—James Stewart is going to treat himself to his first vacation since getting out of the United States army. The lanky ex-colonel has been working hard since his discharge. He has made five pictures, two stage appearances in "Harvey," plus numerous air shows and exploitation trips. He'll catch his first rest after he finishes "You Gotta Stay Happy" with Joan Fontaine.

FOREIGN ENTOURAGE
Rita Hayworth has written friends that she will extend her European tour to the end of August. She is touring southern France and has a trip to Rome on her itinerary. She will headline a benefit show for U.N. children's relief in Paris June 30. Danny Kaye is marking time until a leading lady is found for "Happy Times." He's anxious to start working so he can make the command performance in London this fall. The King and Queen invited him to return following Danny's English triumph early this year.

Shirley Temple, who is co-starring with John Agar again in "Baltimore Escapade," tells me they don't intend to be a regular film team. "One picture a year together would be about right," she says. Shirley was complaining about a "Fort Apache" ad which said "introducing Shirley's new husband." Her reply, "How can he be new if we've been married three years and have a five-month-old daughter?"

CAPITOL THEATRE
Lon McCallister is one actor who needn't worry about where his next screen story is coming from. One of America's most popular novelists appears to be taking care of that. The novelist is George Agnew Chamberlain, author of the widely-read story, "Scudda Hoo! Scudda Hay!" which Twentieth Century-Fox has filmed in color by technicolor, and which is now at the Capitol Theatre. The picture stars Lon McCallister with June Haver, and would not have been filmed if the author hadn't been assured that Lon would play the role of "Snug Dominy."

'To Ends Of Earth' Story Of Intrigue

The truth, it has frequently been demonstrated, can be stranger than fiction. Not only stranger, but more dramatic, more fascinating and even more shocking!

Columbia's "To the Ends of the Earth," starring Dick Powell and Signe Hasso, is one of the best illustrations of this truism. The film, which turns the spotlight on the international underworld and is currently on the Odeon Theatre's screen, is a fabulous story of exotic adventure and romance.

Frontier Action In Atlas Picture

Nothing in the movies can quite compare to an action film well done and "Drums Along the Mohawk," 20th Century-Fox's today to the Atlas Theatre, is thrilling proof. Acclaimed as one of the great masterpieces in this field, the superb production, based on Walter D. Edmonds' celebrated novel, sets forth with heart-pounding realism the stirring days of adventure when the colonists braved the savage onslaught of the Iroquois. Directed by John Ford, the hit stars Claudette Colbert and Henry Fonda.

RIO THEATRE
Stanley Holloway, appearing as Mr. Palmer, a traveling liquor salesman in "Way to the Stars" now at the Rio Theatre through United Artists, started his theatrical career as a "boy singer." His sweet treble was heard in songs of sentimental genre. Michael Redgrave, John Milland and Rosamund John star in this new film.
